Wrest New Positions From Italians After Withstanding Counter-Drive

CROWDS PAY TRIBUTE TO PREMIER METAXAS

ATHENS, Jan. 30 (AP).—Greek warriors, on the offensive again after beating off a week of fierce Italian counter-attacks, were reported tonight to have wrested new positions from the Fascists in the rugged Albanian Mountains north of Klisura.

Military advices said that the Greeks, pausing only long enough to pledge themselves to a fight unto death at brief front-line memorial services for Premier John Metaxas, lashed out with such fury that the Italians were forced to abandon their counter thrusts and withdraw hastily to new positions.

TWENTY LOSSES TO ONE

For a solid week Italian General Ugo Cavallero's forces were said to have stabbed at the Greek lines in an effort to feel out weak positions, and not only failed but disclosed weak points to their own defences. In this time the Greeks said Italian casualties number twenty to every one of their own.

A Government spokesman said the four most recent Italian counter-attacks were crushed by withering artillery and automatic rifle fire by the Greeks.

At one point where the Italians attempted to penetrate the Greek line, he said, the Fascists left behind their dead, wounded, many prisoners and much war equipment. In two days the Greeks have taken 200 prisoners, he declared.

In a spirited air battle, the Greeks

BILL APPROVED BY COMMITTEE

Lease-Land Measure to Aid Britain Goes to United States House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP)—With Administration supporters in clear command of the situation, the United States House of Representatives Foreign Affairs Committee today rejected a series of amendments to the lease-lend bill and then voted its final approval of that measure, 17-8.

In rapid succession, the group turned down proposals that the cost of war materials to be supplied to foes of the Axis be limited to $2,000,000,000; that such assistance take the form of money loans only, and that a section authorizing the purchase of war supplies in foreign countries be eliminated. Thus, as the measure emerged from the committee, it contained just four amendments, each entirely acceptable to President Roosevelt.

ADD NO RESTRICTIONS

These amendments approved on Wednesday, were considered to place no restrictions on the power which the measure would give the President to have war materials manufactured here or elsewhere and then sell, lend, lease or otherwise dispose of them to Britain, Greece, China or other nations.

Meanwhile, Hitler's statement of today that "whoever wants to help England will have to realize that whatever ship is going to come in front of our torpedoes will be torpedoed," attracted the attention of several members of the Senate committee.

Senator Carter Glass (Dem., Va.) said "I certainly am in favor of convoys. I am in favor of sending our ships anywhere we are entitled to send them under international law, and shooting the hell out of anybody who interferes with them. I would rather be a corpse than a live poltroon."

ARMISTICE SIGNED

SHANGHAI, Jan. 31 (Friday) (AP)—Japanese dispatches from Saigon, French Indo-China, said an armistice agreement ending hostilities between Thailand (Siam) and French Indo-China was signed at noon (1 a.m. E.S.T.) today aboard the Japanese cruiser Natori.

Terms of the armistice were not disclosed.

Hitler Makes Usual Boasting Speech—Considered as "Pep Talk"

LONDON, Jan. 30 (CP)—The diplomatic correspondent of the British Press Association wrote tonight that general opinion in London was that Hitler's speech was "tedious and well up to his usual standard of abuse."

The correspondent added that it was generally assumed the address was a pep talk for home consumption.

THE OLD BOAST

BERLIN, Jan. 30 (AP).—Hitler boasted today that every ship approaching Great Britain within the range of German torpedoes would be destroyed and that United States would be of no avail to Great Britain.

He promised his nation victory and the "new order" for Europe within the year.

Hitler did not enlarge on the torpedo threat but the interpretation by Nazis was that he thereby called world attention to Germany's attempted blockade of Great Britain.

It was a warning to the United States to keep American ships outside British waters.

At a climatic point of his address in the Berlin Sportspalast, Hitler declared that Great Britain hopes for help from abroad—"From America."

"I can only say in this connection that we have taken into account every possibility," he went on.

NOTHING AGAINST AMERICA

"The German people have nothing against the American people. That is clear to everyone who does not deliberately twist the facts.

"It should be noted in all events that every ship (seeking to aid Great Britain) be it with or without significance, which comes within the range of our torpedo tubes, will be torpedoed."

The Sportspalast, filled with about 18,000 Nazi party men and Government officials to celebrate the eighth anniversary of Hitler's accession to power, rumbled with cheering at this juncture.

Sir Cyril Newall Is Absolutely Certain Of Ultimate Triumph

Distinguished Airman and Governor-General-Designate of New Zealand Staying at Ottawa to Recuperate From Illness Before Traveling

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 (CP).—Britain needs as quickly as possible every ounce of assistance that can be spared by the North American continent to insure victory, Sir Cyril Newall, Governor-General Designate of New Zealand and marshal of the Royal Air Force, told a press conference here today.

The distinguished airman was interviewed in Rideau Hall, where he and his family are guests of the Governor-General and Princess Alice. As soon as he has fully recovered from what he described as a "real good dose of Canadian flu" Sir Cyril said, he will continue his journey to New Zealand to succeed Lord Galway.

After painting a grim picture of Britain's resolute stand against heavy odds, Sir Cyril said he was "absolutely certain" the spirit of the populace would never be broken

Attack Inevitable If Aggressors in Europe Triumph

Sumner Welles, U.S. Under-Secretary of State, Convinced of Menace to His Country's Security—Physical Invasion Would Follow Economic And Political Attacks on South America

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP).—Questioning whether a negotiated peace now would "be worth the paper on which it was written," Sumner Welles, United States Under-Secretary of State, said tonight that an Axis victory in Europe would lead to economic and political attacks on South America.

He added that a "physical invasion" of that area would soon follow if these attempts were successful.

Welles described this as a more imminent danger than an "immediate attack directed against continental United States" and said "the menace to our security through the passage of the control of the high seas to unfriendly hands is, to my mind, overwhelmingly apparent."

In an address prepared for the annual dinner of the Alumni Association of the New York University School of Law, Welles, who last year interviewed war leaders abroad, said the United States must be prepared in its own self-defence to render

Hanson Says Question of Conservative Leader Not Being Considered

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 (CP)—Hon. R. B. Hanson, Conservative House leader, tonight authorized his office here to issue a statement in connection with reports suggesting that candidates for the Conservative Party leadership were being discussed at a meeting in Toronto tonight.

The statement said:

The question of choosing a new leader for the Conservative party has not been discussed or considered. Mr. Hanson has held no meetings with any group or individual which have had in view the

Willkie Will Make a Visit To Provinces

LONDON, Jan. 30 (AP). Ambulance and fire stations will be studied at first hand tomorrow night by Wendell Willkie who came here to see for himself how badly Great Britain needs United States aid for her war effort.

Mr. Willkie said he would leave for the provinces Sunday night or Monday, going to Coventry, Sheffield and Birmingham if possible and would start for home the middle of next week.

GET READY FOR TALK ON PEACE

Armistice Negotiations Are Speeded by French and Siamese Delegates

SAIGON, French Indo-China, Jan. 30 (AP)—Under Japanese mediators, delegates representing Thailand (Siam) and French Indo-China sped armistice negotiations toward a conclusion tonight, in order to clear the decks for Tokio talks on a final peace, dictated by the Japanese and other momentous questions involving their future.

Informed quarters predicted the current negotiations would be terminated tomorrow with delegates putting the pen to an agreement aboard the new Japanese cruiser Natori anchored just off the Bund in Saigon Harbor.

Commanding almost as much attention as the negotiations were reports circulated in responsible quarters that three Japanese ships—the Tottori Maru, Saigon Maru and Bangkok Maru—were withdrawn from service between Saigon and Singapore last month and put to hauling Japanese munitions to Bangkok.

It was said these stores were for Japan's "future use."

In addition to the Natori, a Japanese light cruiser is tied up here and six other Japanese warships—two cruisers, two aircraft carriers and two torpedo boats—have been reported concentrated off Cape St. Jacques, fifty miles northeast of Saigon.

WEATHER PREVENTS MAJOR OPERATIONS

LONDON, Jan. 31 (Friday) (AP).—Bad weather which kept German air raiders from Britain last night was said today also to have prevented any major operations against Germany by the Royal Air Force.

Weather conditions over the Continent, it was reported, obscured targets and endangered take-offs and landings.

BROADCASTS ON BIRTHDAY

President Roosevelt Thanks People Raising Money for Charitable Cause

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30 (AP).—President Roosevelt suggested to his countrymen tonight that birthdays in the United States were happier this year than they would have been otherwise, "because all of us are still living under a free peoples' philosophy."

He spoke from the White House by radio to thank people from coast to coast who were observing his own fifty-ninth birthday by attending parties, balls and other activities to raise money to combat infantile paralysis. "To all who labored 'in this great cause,'" he voiced his gratitude "from the bottom of my heart."

But Mr. Roosevelt said it was not a completely happy birthday for him because "these are not completely happy days for any of us in the world."

PHILOSOPHY OF FREEDOM

"Shall we say," he said, "that American birthdays this year are being made at least happier than they would otherwise be because all of us are still living under a free peoples' philosophy?"

"It is not only that the lights of peace blaze in our great cities and glow in our towns and villages—that laughter and music still ring out from coast to coast—that we will return to safe beds tonight.

"It is not that we feel no concern for the plight of free peoples elsewhere in the world; that we do not hope that they may continue the freedom of their governments and their ways of life in the days to come.

"It is because we believe in and insist on the right of the helpless and the weak and the crippled everywhere to play their part in life—and survive.

FROM BOTTOM UP

"It is because we know instinctively that this right of the unfortunate comes under our free peoples' philosophy from the bottom up and can never be imposed from the top down."

Mr. Roosevelt, besides making the radio talks, cut one of his seven birthday cakes at the eighteenth annual reunion of the "Cuff Link Boys" at the White House last night, while thousands from coast to coast made merry that handicapped children might be happier. Funds from the affairs went to the National Foundation for In-

Red Cross Financial Work to Make Way for Government Campaign for Savings

TORONTO, Jan. 30 (CP)—The Canadian Red Cross Society announced today that its provincial divisions and branches have been requested to leave the financial field of their work free, with the exception of events already planned, until the Canadian Government has completed its campaign for the sale of war savings stamps and certificates.

This period also will extend to the end of the joint appeal for funds to be made, starting March 24 by five auxiliary war service organizations, acting jointly. They are: Salvation Army, Knights of Columbus, Canadian Legion, Young Men's Christian Association and Young Women's Christian Association.

BRITISH AND AUSTRALIANS TAKE DERNA AFTER FOUR-DAY BATTLE

Italians Put Up Stiffest Resistance Yet in African Campaign—Mechanized Units Push Westward But Fascist Stand Expected Before Bengasi Reached—Many Prisoners Taken

Operations in East Africa Progressing Satisfactorily

CAIRO, Jan. 30 (AP).—The third major Italian bastion to fall in Libya—Derna, 175 miles west of Egyptian frontier—was occupied today by Australian and British troops after four days of the bitterest resistance offered by the Fascists in the African campaign.

The town had been defended by less than 10,000 Italians, British sources announced, but they fought with a violence encountered nowhere else in General Sir Archibald Wavell's long-continued thrust to the west.

While the conquerors consolidated their position in Derna, mechanized units struck on toward Bengasi. Authoritative reports received by British sources indicated that the Italians were preparing to make a stand between Derna and Bengasi. Some of the forces defending Derna were believed to have been able toward the end to withdraw westward, but of this there was no positive confirmation.

The battle for Derna was no set-piece; was in no stereotyped pattern as previous British victories had been.

The town was never wholly surrounded and from the first day of the general attack, when British armored forces racing from Tobruk had reached Derna's outskirts, the Italians strongly resisted.

The initial clash of tanks went in British favor, but the Italians retired behind ridges outside the town and

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1941, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, Jan. 30 (By Cable)—Estimates of German air powers placed before the United States Congress by General Marshall, chief of the staff of the American army, Lindbergh and others are considered fantastic by British air experts, says The Times' aeronautical correspondent.

If the Germans had 70,000 aircraft, or even half of them, they would require to be dispersed over the whole of the conquered territories of Europe to be safe from the Royal Air Force's assault. If they were concentrated on airdromes, such numbers would make ideal targets.

That there are 18,000 Nazi machines ready to bring troops by air to invade Britain is also discounted as a mere alarmist report without foundation.

The present lull in the air war on Britain is due less to German concentrations for attack than to bad weather, which makes the use of continental airdromes all but impossible.

Also many Nazi squadrons have been sent back to Germany to be re-engined, and some heavy bombers and large numbers of dive bombers have been dispatched to assist the battered Italian air force.

The Germans have a number of troop carriers, but nothing like the Washington estimates. If Germany had so great an air fleet as the Americans apparently believe, adds The Times' aeronautic correspondent, they did not attempt to use them last August and September, nor even at Dunkerque, when it was all-important to prevent evacuation of British and French armies.

Actually the Royal Air Force had a local superiority over the Luftwaffe at Dunkerque and over the Channel during evacuation.

It is significant that Spanish newspapers, hitherto notoriously unfriendly to Britain, are beginning to realize that the British Empire is too strong for Germany. German airplanes may bomb the United Kingdom, but cannot touch the Empire, where the output of planes, armaments and pilots expands week by week.

Germany, to beat Britain, says the chief Madrid newspaper, Informaciones, must invade her or cut her Empire communications. A submarine campaign will put the British Isles in a tight corner only if the sinkings total 50,000 tons of shipping daily, instead of weekly as at the present.

The German army now consists of about 225 divisions including thirteen armored and ten motorized divisions. But it is scattered all over Continental Europe, holding down populations which loathe its presence.

There are eight to ten divisions in Rumania and the Nazis are slowly filtering into Bulgaria.

BOMB NAZI NAVAL BASE

All Planes Return Safely From Raids on Wilhelmshaven and Other Points

LONDON, Jan. 30 (CP)—The German naval base at Wilhelmshaven, which has been pounded by British bombers in more than forty attacks, was hammered by Royal Air Force planes again Wednesday night.

The Air Ministry told of the fresh attacks in a brief communique today, but gave no particulars. It was the first attack on Wilhelmshaven in several nights.

The Air Ministry announcement said also that other targets in Northwest Germany were bombed and that all the R.A.F. planes returned safely to their bases.

British Ship Is Suspicious Of Submarine

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP)—The British freighter Sheaf Crown radioed tonight that she had sighted a "suspicious submarine" approximately sixty miles east of St. John's, Nfld.

Her call heard here shortly before 6 p.m. E.S.T. said she was at latitude "47.52 north, longitude 50.34 west."

The 4,868-ton Sheaf Crown last was reported leaving Baltimore, December 16 for Land's End, England.

The freighter's call was the first indication that submarines might be operating in this area at the northern end of the Grand Banks.

STAFF AND STUDENTS AMONG CASUALTIES

LONDON, Jan. 30 (CP)—Several members of the staff of Birmingham University and some "unusually brilliant students" were killed by bombs which damaged university buildings during air raids, the annual report of Dr. R. E. Priestly, vice-chancellor, disclosed today. Dates of the raids were not given.

BOMB ATTACKS ARE SCATTERED

Daylight Raiding Over England Heaviest in Weeks—Night Passes Quietly

LONDON, Jan. 30 (CP)—German bombers stabbed at London, Dover, the Eastern Midlands and Southeast England today with the heaviest daylight raids in weeks, shooting down some of the big bags in Dover's balloon barrage and causing an undetermined number of casualties.

Several deaths were reported in the London area.

All members of the crew of a German bomber were killed when the plane was shot down over Essex.

In one district, a school was reported hit, and in the East Midlands, a low-flying raider machine-gunned a village street with no reported casualties.

NO NIGHT ATTACKS

The Germans failed to follow up the day raiding with night attacks. At a late hour there were no reports of activity in any part of the country, even though there was less fog on the Strait of Dover and visibility was much better than in the day.

For half an hour the planes ranged over that "Hell's Corner" of the Kent coast. Anti-aircraft and machine-gun batteries sent up a thundering barrage.

THREE ALERTS IN LONDON

Three daylight alerts sounded in London and the Ministry of Home Security announced that some shops and houses in the capital were damaged, but that casualties were few. Most of the raiders blasting at the inland points came singly.

In one London area during the afternoon raid shoppers threw themselves to the ground or took refuge in doorways as bombs fell. Shops and a school were damaged.

German War Prizes Being Melted Down By Canadian Plants

Thirty Tons Sold for Scrap at Ottawa—Some Cities Turning in Old Equipment After Receiving Permission From Museum Board

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 (CP).—German rifles, shell cases, trench mortars and other pieces of equipment of the first Great War are being thrown in the melting pot, whence come Canadian arms and ammunition to fight new German aggression.

Dr. Gustave Lanctot, Dominion archivist and chairman of the Military Museum Board told The Canadian Press tonight that thirty tons of German equipment taken in the last war had been sold for scrap at Ottawa and—he hoped—would soon be on its way to Germany in the form of shells, bombs or bullets.

Dr. Lanctot explained the equipment was surplus stock not required by the Canadian War Museum.

The museum's idea of thus disposing of German war equipment it does not need has its counterpart in several cities and villages in Canada which have written asking how they can turn in the German guns loaned them to exhibit as trophies of the last war.

Before these trophies could be sold or given away permission of the Dominion had to be obtained because the arms were only loaned to cities and municipalities for display.

"If some municipality writes us and says that they have been offered a good local price for a trophy, the chances are that we will permit them to sell it and turn the money

URGES DELAY IN RATE INCREASES

B.C. Attorney-General Seeks Postponement of Higher Freight Charges by Railways

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 (CP)—Suspension of proposed railway freight rate increases pending a hearing in British Columbia was urged on the Board of Transport Commissioners and Government officials today by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer of British Columbia. The proposed increases are scheduled to take effect February 1.

The transport commission also has received a protest against any rate increase from a group of Vancouver citizens, backed by the Vancouver Board of Trade.

In announcing the revised rates some time ago the railway companies said they were merely reverting to regular rates. The previous rates had been offered to meet competition from the Panama Canal, when it was feared much of the freight normally handled by the Canadian companies would be diverted through the canal.

Provincial Secretary Says Premier Tried To Save Conference

Hon. Dr. G. M. Weir, Back From Ottawa, Defends Premier Pattullo's Stand on Sirois Discussions—Scope of Talks Limited to Report

RETURNING from the short-lived Sirois report conference at Ottawa, Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, arrived in Victoria yesterday and issued a statement to the press, citing six points which, he said, crystallized the situation.

"The record shows that Premier Pattullo did not scuttle but tried to save the conference," said the minister "He appealed on the second day to throw the conference wide open to discuss matters of Dominion-Provincial interest, but not on the limited basis of the Sirois Report Such matters as the following would be discussed War measures, employment, rehabilitation, and public health. Prime Minister King, however, insisted on limiting the conference to the basis of the Sirois Report.

"Secondly, Premier Pattullo is named along with Premiers Hepburn and Aberhart as being in bad company These three are premiers of provinces that chiefly would be prejudiced under the operation of the so-called national adjustment grants for education Mr Pattullo at no time was an advocate of Social Credit At the conference he pointed out that British Columbia is paying 100 cents on the dollar.

SOCIAL SERVICE

"My third point is that British Columbia's social, health and educational services would be very seriously injured if the report were adopted I shall prove this statement later

"Fourthly, the standards of education, health and welfare services accepted (by implication) in the report as adequate are grossly inadequate These proposed standards are below those of the majority of the Southern and negro states They would never be satisfactory in British Columbia

"The fifth point is that the so-called national average' mentioned in the report is a statistical and social fallacy I have discussed this so-called average with some of the ablest statisticians in our leading universities

"The sixth point I make is that a committee of five outstanding Canadians including a leading businessman and a financial expert of long experience, might be appointed who within ninety days on the basis of the information in the report and other available data could bring in a number of recommendations that would serve as a workable compromise

SEPARATE CONFERENCES

"Before the holding of a plenary conference (i.e. one made up of representatives of all the provinces) separate conferences between the Dominion Government and the individual provinces should be held to discuss the new set of recommendations Adjustments and compromises could be made as the result of such discussions

"It is very doubtful if another plenary conference should be held during wartime; but the spade work for eventual agreement could be done without in any way detracting from Canada's united war effort."

Troubadours' Art Recalled

The story of the Provencal language which from the eleventh to the middle of the fourteenth century was used in the lyric literature of the troubadours of France was very delightfully told by Mme L. G d'Estrube to the members of l'Alliance Francaise at the January meeting on Wednesday afternoon at 1323 Harrison Street

To refresh her hearers' minds about the geography of Provence the speaker used a large map, on which she outlined the boundaries of the old Kingdom of Provence, which stretched from the South of France up to the Rhone The racial beginnings of the country were traced to the Greeks whose distinctive coloring was still to be found among the people The Provencal language derived from many dialects and was therefore mixed but in the lyric literature of the troubadours it proved the most brilliant in mediaeval Europe Something was told too of the 'Courts of Love' instituted by the ladies of the period and of the "menestrals" who wove the stories which were carried by the troubadours as they moved about the country from chateau to chateau The inhabitants to this day sang some of these old songs Other references were to the Society of 'Felibriges' through which the old language had been revived and preserved, and the play "Mereille" for which the great French composer, Gounod had later written music Several poems written by troubadours were recited adding much to the interest of the afternoon

AIRMEN ENJOY GET-TOGETHER

Second Annual Smoker of Western Air Command Headquarters Held

Members of Headquarters Staff Western Air Command and their their guests, numbering some 175, thoroughly enjoyed themselves at [illegible] entertainment held in the Eagles Hall last night, through permission of Air Commodore A. E Godfrey

In addition to the air officer commanding, other officers of the force joined with the men. The toast to The King was proposed by Air Commodore Godfrey, who then extended a welcome to all the officers and men.

The reply and toast to the A.O.C. was made by Wing Commander C. L. Trecarten, president of the sports and recreation club, which had charge of the evening's entertainment.

Surprise feature of the evening was the dance orchestra, composed of members of the R.C.A.F. Patricia Bay Station Band, under the direction of Bandmaster A E Tuttle. The thirteen musicians, many from Vancouver and Eastern Canadian cities, played several popular numbers during the programme and scored an outstanding hit with all present.

EFFORTS APPRECIATED

Rarely have such interpreters of modern music been heard in a local hall, and the efforts of Aircraftman C Roach, trumpet, L. Lynch, tenor saxophone, and their fellow musicians, impressed the gathering, many of whom did not know that the force possessed an orchestra.

Another feature was the appearance of several graceful young ladies from the Vancouver and Victoria branches of the Russian Ballet School These clever dancers appeared in the special "floor show" section of the programme.

Their efforts included a tango Hungarian dance, and novelty tap dances The dancers were Margo St Clair, Beryl English, Gwen Moore and Roma McDonald, of Vancouver and Margaret English, of Victoria Virginia Ryan was the accompanist

OTHER ENTERTAINERS

Other entertainers were Bob McGill and Fred Usher, novelty duets, A.C.1 I. WORK ON SUNDAYS TO FILL ORDERS

Britain's Aircraft Builders, Under War Pressure, Have Little Time for Rest

LONDON, Jan 30 (CP)—Sunday as a day of rest has been put aside until the end of the war as far as aircraft workers and the men who fly the planes they make are concerned.

"Only pay day lets us know what day it is" an employee of an aircraft construction company told Hurricane pilots during a visit to a fighter command station in the South of England

"If it weren't for pay day we would not have any idea of the day of the week Saturdays and Sundays are just as busy as any other day of the week."

"It's the same with us" a squadron leader answered "One of our pilots had a few hours off, so he went into the nearest town to do some shopping He came back empty handed

"'Must be early closing day' he said Then he looked at the calendar and discovered it was Sunday."

RECRUITS WILL BE TAKEN FOR ARMORED UNIT

Men in British Columbia to Have Chance of Service In Tank Corps

ALL ARMY'S BRANCHES HERE IN NEED OF MEN

Men of British Columbia eager to serve in the army tank corps—and there are a great many of them, judging by the number of applications received by recruiting officers—will be given an opportunity to enlist in an armored brigade now being formed in Canada, according to advice received at military district headquarters here from the Department of National Defence

Lieut.-Col H E Goodman, district recruiting officer, has been asked to advise Ottawa as to the number of men this area can supply for the tank corps

Suitable men will be selected from volunteers at present serving in British Columbia in Active Force and Reserve Force units, including lads who have served in the Reserve Force training centres and recruiting for the armored brigade also will be thrown open to men not already in uniform, but who are keen to serve in the heavy mechanized cavalry.

Recruits must be category "A" men, between the ages of nineteen and forty-five years.

NEEDS INCREASING

Already this year the army in Military District No 11 has enlisted more than 500 recruits, but a great many more men are still needed by all army units in the district, and in fact, requirements are increasing almost daily, Colonel Goodman said yesterday reviewing the progress of the recruiting campaign in British Columbia since January 1

"We need every able-bodied man within the age limits who is willing to serve his country," the district recruiting officer stressed

The rapid expansion of the military forces in this province has brought a problem familiar to military authorities Military police are needed Men applying to join this branch of the service should be in first-class health and not less than five feet nine inches in height Previous experience in police work is desirable, but not absolutely essential Age requirements are between twenty-five and forty five years

HIGH QUALIFICATIONS

Men selected for this very important duty have to undergo a very searching examination as to their capabilities, as a man must possess a high degree of intelligence be calm and decisive in his actions, and be able to carry out his duties firmly Strict sobriety of course, is essential.

Applications for this or any other branch of army service may be made at the district depot here, at any of the registration stations throughout the province or by letter to the district recruiting officer Work Point Barracks Esquimalt

Recommendations of Advisory Council on Aliens Are Accepted

Interned Couples May Be Allowed to Live Together In Camps—Other Suggestions Already Implemented in Arrangements Made by Britain

LONDON, Jan. 30 (CP).—Britain's interned couples may live together in camps. The Government has accepted an urgent recommendation to this effect from Lord Lytton's advisory council on aliens.

Established last August to advise the Government on conditions in internment camps and steps to improve aliens' morale, the council submitted five urgent recommendations. All but one, which proposed work for the internees, have been implemented. That question is being investigated.

Other recommendations urged elimination of "tent camps," overhauling of medical arrangements, separating of firm Axis adherents from those opposing the dictators.

Appointment of the committee came after public discussion of the Government's internment policy and followed transferring of responsibility for camps from the War Office to the Home Office. There had been criticism of war policy in rounding up aliens.

The alien question came to the fore after Britain heard stories of fifth column activities contributing to the downfall of the Scandinavian countries. Until then only enemy nationals were subject to internment. The situation was complicated, however, because a large number of refugees from Nazi Germany had flocked to Britain before the war.

Tribunals listed these aliens into three classes — those in sympathy with the enemy, persons of doubtful status, and others who were either victims of Nazi aggression or able to demonstrate their loyalty to the Allies. Only aliens of the first type —Class "A"—were interned.

General internment began after France collapsed and Britain, starting the fight for life, wanted no enemies within.

When early danger passed, public opinion demanded a change after reports about conditions in internment camps were heard. Internment stopped and in August a period of selective releases began. A committee, under Mr. Justice Asquith, was established to advise on releases.

Immediately on appointment of the Lytton Council, visits were paid to the camps and Lord Lytton found them "far from satisfactory." He said, however, some excuse existed because there were no facilities ready for reception of such a large number of people at once.

As the Government carried out the council recommendations, it made the Isle of Man a centre for keeping anti-Nazi internees.

INTERNEE POPULATION

Total interned population reached between 27,000 and 30,000 last May, but since then between 4,000 and 5,000 were sent overseas, mostly to Canada, and a number were released. Present internee population is 19,500, of which 4,000 are Class "A" internees. Germans predominated in the ratio of three to one.

Alexander Patterson, a British Government representative and former prison commissioner, went to Canada late in 1940 to arrange for release of certain internees taken there. Another representative was sent to Australia.

Motor Licences Will Be Issued In B.C. Saturday

MOTORISTS were reminded by the Provincial Motor Record office yesterday that car registration plates and drivers' licences will be issued for the coming year, commencing on Saturday. By nightfall on February 28, vehicle and driving licences, affecting 125,000 vehicles and approximately 150,000 drivers, should be renewed. Where 1941 car plates are mounted before March 1, last year's dashboard licence should be retained, Inspector G. A. Hood said.

ATTACK WOULD BE INEVITABLE

Great Britain, China and Greece "all necessary assistance which America can produce."

"The provisions of the legislation now pending in the Congress (the lease-lend measure), if enacted into law would greatly facilitate that task," he said.

ANSWERS JAPANESE

Answering accusations of Japanese leaders that the United States is "pursuing an aggressive policy in the Far East" and that "we have placed our line of defence in the Western Pacific," Welles said the country's "lines of defence are determined solely by the acts and by the policies of other nations."

With reference to a negotiated peace in Europe, Welles cited countries invaded by Germany in violation, he said, of "binding assurances." Then he asked:

"Under conditions in Europe today could American public opinion conceivably favor a negotiation for peace which would sanction the continued enslavement of the nations now occupied by German military forces?"

"But more than that the negotiation of any lasting peace must be predicated upon the sincere desire of all the parties to such a settlement to abide by the agreements reached and to carry out the pledges which they made.

IMPOSSIBLE TO IMAGINE

"From the record of the German Government of the past eight years and in the light of the citation which I have read to you, is it possible to imagine that any peace arrived at under present conditions would be worth the paper on which it was written?"

Taking up "arguments that no successful crossing of the Atlantic by a hostile air power or a hostile invading force could be undertaken so long as we are properly prepared to defend ourselves," Welles said:

"Those who take this point of view seem to envision ultimate danger to the United States in the event of a victory by the Axis powers solely in the nature of an immediate attack directed against Continental United States.

"They overlook, I believe, a more probable and a more logical sequence of events."

He pointed out that other American republics depend "to the extent of one-half of their total exports upon the European market," and continued:

INEVITABLE ATTEMPT

"Under the German barter system, with all of its complicated and attendant political manipulation, the Axis powers would inevitably attempt to impose a commercial and financial stranglehold upon these neighbors of ours and would at the same time commence immediately to undertake that same policy of commercial concessions which has been carried out in so many instances in their dealings with the smaller nations of Europe.

"If, as a result of this combination of pressure and penetration the successful conquerors of other continents were enabled to find receptive elements in the populations of some of the South American nations, I would not be long before subversive movements on a large scale would be undertaken.

"Should these prove successful, physical invasion would soon follow."

WILL COMPLETE CAMPAIGN PLAN

Island War Savings Committee Chairman to Meet In Nanaimo Tonight

On the eve of the launching of Vancouver Island's effort in the Dominion-wide war savings campaign, committee chairmen from all Island centres will meet tonight in Nanaimo, in the private dining-room of the Plaza Hotel, to receive final instructions as to their part in the drive, which aims to secure monthly contributions totaling $170,000 from Vancouver Island people for the duration of the war.

Chairman of the organizational meeting will be Fred Grant, president of the Nanaimo Board of Trade, and among those who will attend are G. N. Stacey, provincial organizer, Duncan MacBride, chairman of the Greater Victoria committee, F. E. Winslow, who is coordinating the committee efforts on the Island, Miss Sara Spencer, chairman of the Victoria house-to-house canvassing committee and A. G. Smith, chairman of the Saanichton committee.

Yesterday morning a meeting of the Victoria women's executive was held, under the chairmanship of Mr. Winslow, at which a comprehensive picture of the women's place in the campaign was presented.

BOOTHS IN STORES

Arrangements have been made for the erection of booths for the sale of war savings stamps and certificates in the Hudson's Bay Company and David Spencer, Limited, stores in Victoria, where members of the Local Council of Women will be in daily attendance, beginning on Monday.

Two Victoria firms are included in the honor roll awards mentioned in the January 22 report of the war savings committee. They are the Island Tug & Barge Company, which receives a gold honor roll award for 100 per cent participation by employees and Manning Lumber Mills, Limited, which receives a silver honor roll award for 90 to 99 per cent participation.

FIRST AID GROUP ELECTS OFFICERS

William Fulton Is Named as President of Nanaimo Centre at Annual Meeting

NANAIMO, Jan. 30.—William Fulton was elected president of Nanaimo First Aid Centre of St. John Ambulance Association at the annual meeting here. Other officers are Mrs. G. Roper and Charles Wharton, vice-presidents; Mrs. Henry Cannon, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. J. Forsythe and J. Smith, auditors; honorary president, H. R. Plommer, Vancouver; honorary vice-presidents, Hon. George Pearson, Harold Baird, R. T. Smart and John McDonald.

The meeting passed a resolution to be forwarded to the provincial council urging that consideration be given a suggestion that employers of labor give preference to men holding industrial first aid certificates.

Lengthy discussion followed a complaint that a man with an ordinary first aid certificate held a first aid position in this district while the holder of an industrial certificate worked in a ditch nearby.

HIGHER STANDING

A complainant pointed out that the Workmen's Compensation Board only recognized industrial certificate for first aid jobs in logging camps and the provincial council urged that first-aiders sit for their industrial examinations, which cost an additional fee.

The annual report, read by Secretary Mrs. H. Cannon, showed a bank balance of $45.53, as compared with $59.73 in 1939.

D. M. Candlemere, formerly of Wells (B.C.) first aid class, was received as a member, and a delegation from Qualicum first aid mixed class attended the meeting.

The executive committee was authorized to make the decision as to what first aid classes should be permitted to attend special ambulance brigade lectures to be given by instructors from Vancouver.

TRIBUTES PAID TO NOBLE LIFE

Joseph Patrick, Once Prominent in Civic Affairs, Buried Yesterday

Joseph Patrick, prominent in the public, welfare and religious life of [illegible] of the Patrick family, whose members have made themselves famous in Canada's national sport, ice hockey, was buried in the family plot at Royal Oak yesterday afternoon, following a ceremony attended by many of his old-time friends and associates in civic activities.

The eighty-three-year-old retired lumberman, whose interests extended at one time from Eastern Canada to the Pacific Coast, died on Tuesday morning in Vancouver, where he had moved from Victoria a few years ago. He had made his home here for nearly thirty years.

The funeral service, held in the Sands Mortuary Chapel at 2 p.m., was conducted by Rev. F. R. G. Dredge. Among those who attended were Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance; J. V. Johnson, vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce, with which body Mr. Patrick was formerly prominently associated, Alderman H. A. Wills, representing the City Council, on which Mr. Patrick served in 1919, 1920 and 1922, and W. C. Moresby, K.C.

INTEREST IN YOUTH

"In the death of Mr. Patrick there has passed one who played a conspicious part in the life of this city and province," Mr. Dredge said in a short address during the service. Interested at all times in the physical well-being of the young, he had sought to provide for their development, more particularly when he came to Victoria. In civic life and in wider provincial relationships he had accomplished many things and his life of honest business and successful enterprise had been made possible by his abiding faith in God.

The hymns "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "My Faith Looks Up to Thee" were sung during the service, and Mrs. J. W. Miller, a daughter of the deceased sang as a solo "Some Day the Silver Cord Will Break."

The pallbearers were Frank Stanley and Guy Patrick, sons of the deceased, Graham Scott and Walter Patrick, nephews, and Albert Sullivan.

FOILING NIGHT BOMBERS

During his present mission to this continent, Air Chief Marshal Sir Hugh Dowding has let it be known that progress is being made on methods for combatting night bombing. When Lord Baldwin was Prime Minister he is credited with the saying that "the bomber will always get through." So far this assertion has proved correct. The Germans get through to British cities; the British bomber finds its marks in Germany, Italy, Czecho-Slovakia, everywhere, in fact, within range, and does its deadly work. The methods of combatting night bombing are probably only in their infancy, and the likelihood is that what Sir Hugh Dowding alludes to is no new device, but closer co-operation and greater efficiency in the existing defensive services. There are discussions going on now in which Great Britain and the United States are participating, and tests are being made in securing greater results from searchlights. These can be used to an effective range of 25,000 feet, and fully-loaded bombers rarely fly at a greater height. Thus the searchlight can reach the bomber's height, but the difficulty is in locating the airplane.

Experience has proved, so far, that the anti-aircraft gun, dependent upon sound locators and predictors, is by no means accurate at night-time. The chief problem of all is a device to enable the fighter to locate the bomber. It is in connection with the results already achieved in this particular that Sir Hugh Dowding is now watching, and assisting in experiments being made in the United States. Great Britain's ground defences against air attack are being strengthened all the time. During recent weeks fighters have been going up to attack night bombers whenever weather conditions are at all favorable. During Summer nights they will be able to operate successfully, and will, perhaps, provide the best defence of all, but when such fighters are in the air in search of the attackers the ground defences have to be silent. That means plans must be perfected for closer co-operation between the defensive services.

DELAYS IN AIRPLANE PRODUCTION

The Winnipeg Free Press, as staunch a party organ as there is in the Dominion, has reached the conclusion that Federal Aircraft, Limited, has failed to achieve the purpose for which it was created. That purpose was to co-ordinate and direct the activities of privately-owned companies in the production of Anson bomber fuselages to be used in the Empire Air Training Plan. By the authority given to Federal Aircraft, Limited, planes were to have been produced by the end of last year. The hope has not been realized. The estimate varies as to when there will be production, but it will not be before March and may not be until July. Thus, according to The Free Press, "much time has been irretrievably lost." Moreover, it says, that "Federal Airways, Limited, over a period of months, has been allowed to drift from bad to worse."

The Free Press has grown so critical in this particular that it claims there are signs at Ottawa "that peace-time etiquette is still being followed. . . . The known facts with respect to Federal Aircraft support the belief that overworked, harassed Ministers are unable to give unflagging and detailed attention to problems which yield to no other treatment. They make the plan, select the personnel, start it going. If the plan succeeds, well and good. If it needs to be followed up carefully, adjusted and revised—then the Minister has no time, and nothing is done until a crisis of some kind compels attention. . . . The existing situation with respect to Federal Aircraft, Limited, cannot be allowed to continue. The public will look to the Government and to Mr. Howe, or whoever is acting in his stead, to take prompt and effective action to put matters right."

Inasmuch as Federal Aircraft, Limited, has only to do with the making of the frames of airplanes, the delay there has been is inexplicable. The engines for the machines are to be secured from the United States. Canada, although the War has been in progress for over sixteen months, does not manufacture airplane engines. It has been asserted again and again by Ministers of the Government that one of this country's greatest contributions to the War is in aerial effort. That would imply both men and machines, but the production of the latter continues to be far behind schedule.

OUR LITERARY INHERITANCE

In these strenuous and trying times, when nearly every phase and feature of daily life is more or less affected by the War, it is heartening to consider for a moment the quiet work of those "soldiers of the common good" who carry on, amid the distractions and tribulations of the time, the beneficent work of education. They find time and energy to write educational texts, printers find the means of making and publishing the same, and students purchase and read them. An Old Country scholar, the Professor of English Literature in the University of London, has very recently written the story of English Literature, the story of the twelve hundred years that lie between the unknown author of our oldest epic, Beowulf, and the well-known and very modern playwright, G. B. Shaw.

It is no doubt true that the best way to become acquainted with English Literature is to read the literature itself rather than a scholar's comments thereupon, that the student who has merely heard the name of Ben Jonson or of Keats has only the husk of knowledge, while the reader of "Every Man in His Humor" or "The Ode on a Grecian Urn," possesses the kernel. However, while a few fortunate or industrious persons are able to cover the whole field, others must content themselves with the opinions of competent scholars. Professor Evans, in his book, gives a perspective view of the field and the relative importance of the chief writers and their works. His few formal pronouncements are well worth considering, and his more numerous obiter dicta perhaps equally so.

For example, it is interesting to read that Chaucer's Canterbury Tales are the clearest pictures of late mediaeval life existent anywhere, and that Langland, in his "Vision of Piers Plowman," has written "the greatest poem in English devoted to the Christian way of life." The author claims that Ben Jonson is the Dickens of the 17th Century, that Hobbes has "a strange acrid beauty" in his prose, while Locke has "lucidity without charm." He believes that Pepys was really the most famous prose writer of the late 17th century; that Bunyan is the supreme example of the proletarian writer, but that he was not concerned with the "class struggle," but with the struggle for a man's soul. The most vigorous mind of the 18th century, he says, was Swift's, and his prose defies imitation. One can often find clarity in Dr. Johnson, where other editors of Shakespeare remain obscure, and no one has equaled him in describing to the English people what the words of their language really mean. In Edmund Burke, he sees the great exponent of Conservatism, who held that the first law of society is man's relation to God, and that the image of that law is to be found, not in paper-made theories, but in custom and tradition. Blake, he says, took the most dangerous course any artist can pursue, that of discarding tradition completely. His opinion is that Burns' "Jolly Beggars" is his greatest poem; that Shelley's "Skylark" is the least characteristic of his poems, and that Wordsworth's "Prelude" is possibly the greatest poem in the modern period in English. Disraeli's novels he esteems as being far from outworn either in their themes or their politics. Bernard Shaw's career has been the longest in English dramatic history, and the author says that his verbal wit is his greatest gift and also his greatest temptation; that "our age needed a new Aquinas and we were given G. B. Shaw." Wodehouse he regards as a writer of most brilliant idiomatic English. For obvious reasons, he says, we have now become distrustful of oratory, but that to read today the early speeches of Lloyd George is to step into another world, and the eloquence of Winston Churchill, who alone retains the grand manner, has a permanent place in our literature.

GUEST EDITORIALS

The Times, of New York, prints occasionally what it describes as a "guest editorial," an article selected from those submitted by certain of its readers. This practice arouses more than average interest in the editorial page of that newspaper. The writers very often seize upon aspects of policies espoused by the newspaper which may be overlooked by the regular editorial writers. They, at least, upon occasion, clothe those policies or thoughts upon them in language which departs from the stereotyped usage in editorial columns. It is an excellent idea that readers who are equipped for such an effort should be encouraged for it makes for a closer rapprochement between a newspaper and its supporters. One recent editorial in the New York newspaper dealt with the rights of the individual which were described as "the supreme test of democracy." Of these the guest writer said:

"Do they matter to us? Look at France, which no longer has them. Look at Britain, where helpless civilians nightly risk or endure the tortures of the damned rather than give them up. Once more men and women die for freedom. Once more these rights are the central issue of an age of battle. For them, and not for any narrow aim, we (Americans) arm ourselves. For them we aid Britain and China. For them, if there were no other choice, popular opinion in this country would surely accept the awful test of war."

In the recent War Weapons Week in Great Britain the city of Huddersfield and district raised £2,406,334, or £1,056,334 more than the original aim of the committee. The amount was subscribed in investments, interest-free loans and by gifts. It worked out, on the basis of a population of 170,000, at £14 3s 1d per head. It is sufficient to construct five destroyers.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Fair is fair. To argue that British Columbians, as Canadians, have no voice as British Columbians is to speak too quickly. Yet that is being said in some quarters as a word of reproach to the Provincial Government on the text of this Province's reply in the Rowell report controversy. Actually, British Columbia's reply was based on the text of the Rowell report, dealt precisely with the same years mentioned in that report, and stated the Provincial Government's reasons for disagreeing with recommendations of the commission in their present form. As a matter of plain fact, so do I disagree; nor do I hold myself any less of a Canadian by reason of that. That both the Dominion and the Provinces would have been in a stronger position if they had sat down at a common conference and discussed these differences is another point. It is well taken. The Provinces cannot be entirely blamed, however, if they received the impression that the Rowell report was being thrust suddenly at their heads; and if in the words of Mr. Ilsley they were told it was loaded. That is not discussion. That is black-jacking, and a very poor time for it, too.

• • •

It is most often argued that as this is wartime the Dominion must have the money. No one denies that. It should be conceded, however, that the Dominion has not hesitated to take the money. The 8 per cent war tax went into effect last year, and no British Columbia citizen has complained, in so far as one is aware. Exclusive of the war tax, many men in British Columbia this year will pay four times as much income tax to the Dominion as they will to the Province of British Columbia. In some cases, comparing what the Dominion will take this year between income and war tax with what it took a year ago, the increase is as high as 800 per cent. That is a sizable jump, without the assistance of the Rowell report, or any change in the British North America Act that one has heard about. If, in short, the Dominion merely wanted the money, it would have been leagues ahead to have said so flatly, and to have made no pretence of discussing the Rowell report at all. It never was more than a feeble pretence, at best. Money is one thing, and there is little doubt the Dominion must have it. The Rowell report is something else again.

• • •

Even on the issue of money, it might be shown that the Dominion through customs and excise, sales tax and process tax, stamp tax and wire tax, income, mineral and other levies, is taking from British Columbians, who are good Canadians, a larger gross per capita yield than applies at many other points in Canada. A year ago, for instance, the Dominion was taking at the rate of $12 to this Province's $8 in the income tax field, which included Provincial corporation taxes. That was before the special war tax was imposed, and Dominion income taxes were boosted under other heads. Both an import and export province, British Columbia pays on goods moving both ways, and on materials processed within the territory as well. The fact that there has been no special outcry against this is a fair index to the status of British Columbians as good Canadians. It is superficial pleading to say that we must accept the Rowell-Sirois recommendations en bloc because the Dominion wants the income tax. The Dominion has the greater proportion of that tax now. So the need for money is not any final answer in the present case.

• • •

On the issue of the report itself, I believe the Rowell inquiry to have been a little apart in the matter of Royal Commissions. It was created as a fact-finding body, to have a look at the ascertainable facts throughout Canada. It did so, objectively. The resultant report is one that no one may laugh off, nor lay aside in a hurry. It remains a pity, and this column has already said so, that the commission was pressed on to making recommendations, before the facts it was to have reported on had been more generally appreciated and understood. Even there, the Dominion could easily have shown by example, and not by inference, that the recommendations would be thrown open for genuine discussion; and that such discussion would take place on a two-way basis. No one today can pretend that that was done.

• • •

In so far as the Province's reply, made public by the Provincial Government here after return from the abortive conference, goes, it stands now in the position of a postscript to a letter that has been tabled. That, too, is a pity, because there is material in the reply that has an objective bearing on definite material in the report. British Columbia's case was one that should have been fully presented, and should have been heard. Wonderful and magical people will have an immediate solution for the whole problem. This column, which has studied provincial finances for twelve years, knows of no easy one. It sees, very clearly, that what we are getting is recrimination and not discussion. From recrimination we are likely to develop little but a headache. Until more reasonable minds prevail, perhaps we should forego the recrimination and get along with the war. There, at least British Columbians need yield to none as good Canadians; as good or better now as in the testing years 1914-1918. Nobody need sell Canada "short."

WASTE OF PUBLIC FUNDS

Sir,—I wonder if instead of travelling to Ottawa like an Eastern potentate with a retinue of ministers, deputies, secretaries, etc., the same result could not have been accomplished by our Premier with a penny postal card? A card addressed to Mr. Mackenzie King endorsed with the simple two-letter word "No" would be a gesture of economy gratifying to the taxpayer and secure the same net result.

Pipers to Hold Annual Meeting

The Vancouver Island Pipers' Association will hold its annual general meeting at the Britannia Branch Legion Hall on Saturday, at 8 p.m.

During the business session, election of directors for the forthcoming two-year term will take place, as well as submission of reports on the year's activities. Captain G. D. Sprott will address the meeting on "Highland Regiments," during the evening. The programme of entertainment, with pipe selections, songs and dancing will conclude the evening meeting.

VICTORIA IS TOPIC IN CAMERA MAGAZINE

The result of the film made by Charles W. Herbert, A.S.C., for Universal Pictures last year, a series of pictures illustrate a story in the recent issue of The American Cinematographer, entitled "Filming Victoria—Canada's Little Bit of England." Included in the layout of pictures are photographs of the Empress Hotel, totem poles, logging, lawn bowling and an alleged "bobby" directing traffic.

The story was written by Mr. Herbert especially for the motion picture camera magazine.

The time is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill of the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily Colonist of January 31, 1891)

A $30,000 Hotel—The owners of the Colonist Hotel, Beacon Hill Park, are having plans prepared for a $20,000 building, to occupy the site of the present frame structure. Construction will commence very shortly. The new hotel is to be of brick throughout, and equipped with all modern improvements, including electric light, billiard hall, salt and fresh water baths, tennis courts, etc. There will be seventy or eighty bedrooms, and the new hotel will be managed by a well-known local caterer.

Victoria Athletic Club—On Wednesday night there will be a gathering of the practising members and the general managers of the Athletic Club, in their rooms over Brackman & Ker's store, Government Street, for the purpose of making arrangements with a scientific boxer and wrestler to give lessons to the practising members. They are now as good athletes as could have been expected from the few instructions they have been able to obtain.

Ice Factory—The Union Ice Company, of Tacoma, with factories at Portland, Seattle and Whatcom, has decided to establish a branch factory in this city, and W. E. Rockwell, agent of the company and one of its directors, was here yesterday making suitable arrangements towards the selection of a site for the works, and other matters in connection with the establishment of the factory.

Irving Berlin's latest song is entitled "A Little Old Church in England." Even United States songs support the British cause . . . A quota of $4,000 per day has been set for Greater Victoria in the war savings campaign. A little help from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in controlling the price of necessities would go a long way towards helping us attain the goal . . . Winnie, the Pooh, entered into a learned discussion on rubella when she visited the office. Those who had measles when they were young are not immune to the disease. "I have never been afraid of catching anything," Winnie chirped. Two days later the other girls at her office noticed some bright red spots on Winnie's countenance. "Have you got it?" they asked. "Of course not. It must have been something I ate," she indignantly replied. But Winnie was wrong. At dinner time the doctor told her to stay away from work for eight days until her rubella vanished . . . Our tobacconist friend claims it takes only a fraction of a second to wink with one eye, but much longer to explain it to the wife . . . "Every bone in my body aches," Bill, the Broad Street barber, complained when his wife made him chop wood for a change. "Then be thankful that you are not a herring," Mrs. Bill chuckled. —O.B.

Louis by the Fourth

Joe Louis shuffles from his corner this evening in Madison Square Garden to defend his heavyweight boxing crown for the thirteenth time. His opponent tonight is none other than "Red" Burman, husky young Irishman, who has a fair ring record. Will the "13th" jinx go against the Brown Bomber? That question has been asked by numerous boxing enthusiasts all over the continent. Burman has fought Barlund, Pastor, and a few other third-raters but he has yet to face a man who punches with the ferocity of the colored titleholder. Most of the experts who have watched both lads in training have stated that "Red" will be lucky if he gets by the fifth round. They even go farther and say that Louis can name the round in which he will stop the challenger if he wishes to. My prediction is that Burman will be stopped by the fourth round.—J.D.

Aid for Prisoners To Be Discussed In Free Lecture

Mrs. Marjorie Coste, who has come to Canada from London to assist the Canadian Red Cross Prisoners of War Committee, is in the city and will deliver an address on "Canadian Red Cross Aid to Prisoners of War" on Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the First Baptist Church.

The lecturer, a Canadian by birth, was living in London at the outbreak of war, and offered her services to the British Red Cross. Since that time Mrs. Coste has been connected with the prisoners of war department, St. James' Palace, and has now been lent to the Canadian Prisoners of War Committee which, at the request of the British society, is undertaking the packing and sending of 10,000 parcels per week to prisoners of war in Germany, at an estimated cost of $1,500,000 a year. Mrs. Coste has specialized in this particular branch of Red Cross work and is able to give positive assurance that prisoners do receive their parcels. This lady, who has experienced air raids in London and has seen much of the sufferings caused by these visitations, will tell how the Canadian Red Cross meets such emergencies, and of the gratitude of the people who receive food, clothing, blankets, etc., supplied by the Canadian people. Her story is full of interest, and her only appearance before leaving for the East will be at the First Baptist Church on Tuesday.

The public is cordially invited and there will be no admission charge. The lecturer will be glad to meet relatives and friends of any prisoners of war, British or foreign. Questions will be welcomed.

Fighting Family Loses Its Head

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland, Jan. 30 (CP)—Joseph Hegarty, father of the "Fighting Hegartys," died yesterday. A soldier in the Boer War himself, Hegarty had eleven sons in the British Army. Four were killed in the first Great War and three are serving in the British Army now.

LONDON, Jan. 30 (CP)—Sir William Llewellyn, seventy-seven, president of the Royal Academy from 1928 to 1938, died yesterday. His portraits of Queen Mary were outstanding and one of them was acquired by the State.

Will Raise Funds For Raid Victims

QUALICUM BEACH, Jan. 30.—A committee from members of the Qualicum Beach Unit of the Red Cross Association, which is raising money for the Lord Mayor of London's Fund, held a meeting this week. It was decided to start with a whist drive and drawing, to be held in the Qualicum Community Hall on Wednesday evening, February 12.

CHINESE BANKER KILLED

SHANGHAI, Jan. 30 (CP)—Unidentified assailants shot and killed Chi Ming-Dah, Chinese banker, today in the French concession. His bank was among those reported to have accepted Central Reserve Bank notes in exchange for its Chungking currency.

ALREADY WE'RE READY AT

DIGGONS

According to Culbertson

The prime consideration of most opening leads should be safety, or, to put it another way, the leader's main thought should be not so much to gain a trick as to avoid the loss of a trick. Against slam contracts, however, this philosophy must often take a back seat. Rarely will a "waiting" lead be effective against a slam, assuming, of course, that the slam has been bid by players who know what they are doing.

In today's hand West needed only a little vision and courage to discover the killing opening lead.

The bidding

After North's free raise in clubs South decided that the slam would be an excellent gamble. Naturally he hoped for a spade opening which he could control. Then, even if North had nothing in hearts, he might very well have a good diamond suit which would permit heart discards. South did not want to warn the opponents away from a spade opening by cue-bidding the suit. Of course he might have tried to discover whether or not North held any heart controls, but, as South later admitted, he had privately decided to take a flyer at a slam, come what may, and hence bid it in one fell swoop.

West responded to South's hope rather than to his own and partner's interests. With never a second thought he led out the king of spades. Dummy's ace won, and declarer made no mistake in the matter of the correct discard from his own hand. He threw away a diamond, not a heart. The club jack was then led and taken by West, who promptly shifted to a heart. The ace won, one more lead of trumps drew the outstanding trump, and the diamond suit was then established by the lead of the ace, king and a ruff of the third round. Dummy, of course, had a third club for entry to the established diamonds.

West had an opportunity to distinguish himself but failed miserably on his opening lead. Holding first-round control of trumps he should have seen that the greatest chance of defeating the contract lay in a heart opening. If a spade trick existed for the defenders it must be the ace and, therefore, no spade establishment was necessary. A heart trick, however, might be the defenders' only salvation and that might (and did) require establishment. A diamond lead was unattractive. Presumably South had a fit with partner's diamond suit and, therefore, the defenders' diamond tricks, if any, hardly could escape. Obviously an opening heart lead would have made the contract impossible of fulfilment.

Fishing Industry Approaches Sound Economic Footing

Scientific Methods of Processing and Distributing Sea Foods With Co-operative Effort, Among Reasons for Improved Conditions on Coasts

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 (CP)—Canada's fishing industry, estimated before the war to be the main support of close to 500,000 people, is rapidly getting rid of its headaches and approaching a sound economic footing, Fisheries Minister Michaud said today in an interview.

For years the lives of those who harvest the seas on the Maritime Provinces and Pacific Coast have struggled with adversity. Lost foreign markets; difficulties in handling and distribution, lack of demand at home and the high cost of equipment militated against the industry.

Now, largely as a result of the war but also because of scientific methods developed for processing and distributing sea foods and more efficient operating production, co-operative effort and a stimulated home consumption, the industry is getting out of "the red," Mr. Michaud said.

SUPPLIES SCARCE

Dislocation of operations in European waters, diversion of trawlers to naval service and the fact that many formerly engaged in the fisheries have entered the armed forces or other war activities, have brought a scarcity of supply where a short time ago there was a surplus.

The minister said another factor contributing to improved conditions among fishermen is the growth of co-operative effort. All along the Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia coastline, fishermen are working together.

Credit unions have been established at many points, providing members with a means of borrowing at small cost from their own savings without security other than their word.

In some instances co-operative buying and selling agencies have been established, bringing a new sense of security and responsibility to those even in the smallest and most isolated fishing communities.

Only one fishing trawler now is operating on the Canadian Atlantic coast, Mr. Michaud said. It is not suitable for naval service. All others have been commandeered.

NEW TYPE CRAFT

A fleet of new inshore fishing boats, scientifically designed, cheap to operate and carrying crews of six or seven men is being developed in Nova Scotia with great success, with the assistance of the Provincial Government.

United States exports have grown since the war started. Pacific Coast conditions are improved and are expected to be even better when the United Kingdom's food control is more permanently organized, Mr. Michaud said.

SHOULD GRANT UNION DEMANDS

Conciliation Board Recommends Seaman's Organization Be Recognized

OTTAWA, Jan. 30 (CP)—A recommendation that ten shipping companies, operating fifty-four vessels on the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River, should recognize the Canadian Seamen's Union as the bargaining agency of their employees, was contained in the report of conciliation made public by Labor Minister Norman McLarty today.

The companies are Sarnia Steamships, McKellar Steamships, Colonial Steamships, Keystone Transportation, Canadian Lake Carriers, Gulf and Lake Navigation, Lakehead Transportation Company, St. Lawrence Steamships, Valley Camp Coal Company, and Lake Erie Navigation.

The report said eight companies operating 155 vessels had agreed to recognize the union. These companies were the Canadian Steamship Lines, Tree Line Navigation, Upper Lakes and St. Lawrence, Quebec and Ontario Navigation, Algoma Central Steamships, North-West Steamships, Union Transit and Paterson Steamships Company.

The board was set up last April to inquire into a dispute between the companies and their employees.

Aircraftman Gosling's Remains Raised With Wreckage From Bottom of Muskoka Lake

GRAVENHURST, Ont., Jan. 30 (CP)—One of the bodies of four air force flyers missing in two planes believed to have crashed into Lake Muskoka last December, was recovered today along with one of the planes. It was the body of L.A.C. W. Gosling, Edmonton.

When engineers finally succeeded in lifting the wreckage of the plane to the ice-covered surface of the lake at noon today, they found only one body in the rear seat. The other is believed to have slipped out of the plane. Diver Barney Bristow was expected to descend the 120 feet to the bottom again later in an attempt to locate the other body.

The second plane, which also carried two airmen, has not been definitely located. The wreckage in which the one body was found today had been located some time ago.

The other man in the plane with Gosling was Sgt. Leo Francis Wales. Gosling's body will be taken to Edmonton.

RIVAL UNIONS MAKE TROUBLE

Members of A.F.L. Association Object to C.I.O. Men On Certain Work

DAYTON, Ohio, Jan. 30 (AP).—Michael J. Crosetto, a Federal mediator, announced tonight settlement of a strike of building craft employees that tied up work on a $1,550,000 expansion programme at Wright Field, testing laboratory for the United States Army Air Corps.

Crosetto said the War Department ordered Colonel Lester T. Miller, commandant at the field, to suspend, "pending further investigation," an electrical project being handled by the Penner Installation Company of New York.

Between 400 and 500 members of American Federation of Labor building trades unions left their jobs yesterday morning because, a spokesman stated, the Penner Company imported men affiliated with a Congress of Industrial Organizations union.

Crosetto said he was advised by A.F. of L. leaders that the building trades men would return to work tomorrow.

Swedish Sailing Craft Is Due at East Coast Port

BOSTON, Jan. 30 (AP).—Modern war's demands on shipping space have proved a boon to a vessel of a bygone era—the square-rigger.

One of them, the four-masted bark Abraham Rydberg, en route from Santos, Brazil, is due in Boston Sunday, the first square-rigged merchantman to put into this port since first Great War days.

The 2,400-ton Rydberg, carrying a cargo of cottonseed meal, for use as fertilizer, left Santos December 5. Launched in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1892, she now is equipped with a wireless as her only concession to shipping progress.

As the Star of Greenland she served in the Alaskan salmon fleet. She flies the Swedish flag.

Large Number of Workers Will Be Needed in Alaska

SEATTLE, Jan. 30 (AP).—Three thousand skilled workers will be signed up here and in other Pacific Northwest United States cities the next few months for employment on the $74,000,000 air base construction jobs at Anchorage and Fairbanks, Alaska, Captain B. B. Talley, United States army engineer in charge, said today.

The men will be employed for one year under contract and the payroll on the two projects, Elmendorf Field and Fort Richardson, both near Anchorage, will total approximately $50,000 daily when work is in full swing by Midsummer.

STUDENT AIRMAN IS KILLED IN ACCIDENT

SASKATOON, Sask., Jan. 30 (CP)—Aircraftman J. A. A. Quinlan, Port Arthur, Ont., died in hospital here late today from injuries suffered earlier when struck by a propeller of an airplane at No. 4 Service Flying Training School.

Aircraftman Quinlan was a student pilot at the school. His sister, Mrs. Robert W. Hobson, lives at Toronto. Details of the accident were not immediately available.

SAILED FOR GREECE

BAYONNE, N.J., Jan. 30 (AP).—Loaded with a $1,000,000 cargo of Red Cross supplies—food, bandages, medicine, trucks and blankets—the 5,106-ton Greek freighter Kassandra Louloudis sailed today for Greece.

The freighter was painted a dull, camouflaged grey. Her route was not disclosed.

SURFACE JUST LIKE CONCRETE

Snow Rolled and Packed Makes Ideal Landing Field for Planes

EDMONTON, Jan. 30 (CP)—The problem of a Winter landing surface at Edmonton's busy Municipal Airport has been solved, Captain James Bell, airport manager, reported today.

Adopting a new method of rolling and packing the snow instead of attempting to clear it, the 500-acre landing field has been kept surfaced this Winter with a solid layer of icy snow similar to concrete.

"I saw this method used for the first time in White Horse (Y.T.) and decided to adopt it here," Captain Bell said.

The rollers, hauled by a caterpillar tractor, operate continuously night and day while it is snowing. The five-foot diameter rollers are comparatively light and are attached in sections to a main-hitch like farm harrows. They roll a thirty-foot swath at a time.

In front of the rollers a drag fitted with teeth loosens the snow surface and allows it to be rolled evenly again.

Two feet of normal snowfall is packed into a solid mass of four or five inches of snow and ice by the rolling process. It is nearly as firm as concrete and any type of wheel-equipped aircraft can land with ease on the surface. Wheels of a five or six-ton truck hardly made a mark on the icy surface, Captain Bell said.

FEWER SHIPS ENTERED FRASER PORT IN 1940

Volume of shipping through the port of New Westminster was considerably less last year than in the previous twelve months, according to advices received from the Fraser River port. The number of ships arriving in 1940 totaled 333, compared with 509 in 1939, a reduction of 718,103 net registered tons.

Export cargo was also substantially less in 1940 than in 1939, but import cargo was slightly greater.

JUNIORS HELP WAR CHARITY

Popular Pupils' Entertainment Given Last Night to Be Repeated Tonight

Supplementing their already highly creditable war charities effort, the Central Junior High School last night added more to its funds by [illegible] including three one-act plays, before an audience of about 400 parents and young friends assembled in the auditorium. The entertainment will be repeated tonight, with a complete change of cast in the first of the plays, but otherwise practically identical.

Much thought and time in the preparation of the programme were represented in the numerous details, those responsible for the selection of the material and the training of the children being Miss S. Reay, C. Chatfield, Miss O Heritage, Miss W. Elliott and R. Kipling. The young performers played, sang or danced to a most responsive audience, which at the last joined the assembled company in singing, with great heartiness, "There'll Always Be an England."

Principal A. T. Hunkin spoke briefly at the beginning of the entertainment to welcome the audience and Colonel R. B. Worsley, honorary secretary of the Red Cross Society, who thanked the school for its already splendid achievement of having raised over $160 for the Red Cross. Others in the audience were Trustees Mrs. A. S. Christie, P. Mulliner and Major R. H. Green, and Major Bullock-Webster.

THE PLAYS

Miss Heritage directed the first play, a picturesque mediaeval version of the modern Boy Scout "Good Deed," the quaintly garbed characters in which were earnestly played by Robert Look as the peasant boy, Holger, Dick Chester as his younger brother Steen; Leonard Bath, as the uncle; Maxine McAllister as an old woman; Stanley Walters, the priest; Syd Glover, Edwin Popham, Roberta Ray, Clarice Oymond, Barbara Frankham, Robert Bruce and Anne Taylor. Those in charge of the lighting, properties and costumes were all pupils—Leonard Bath, Ron Shrive, Tom Wilkinson, Eva Chung, Peter Underwood and Connie Benning. Kathleen Drysdale furnished the organ music.

The next play, derived from the "Robin Hood" tradition, and directed by Miss Elliott, included the following players: Shirley Manning as Robin Hood; Lawrence Thompson as Little John; Donald Harvey as Friar Tuck; Frank Rogers as Simon, Don Walker as Guy of Gisborne, Shirley Essler as the sheriff of Nottingham, and others in the play were Albert Cox, Gloria McRoberts, Lenore Chernoff, Martin Shepherd and John Rickerby. Important behind the scenes assisting with the effects were Ian Sherwin, Grant Bracewell and Gerry Elliott.

There was good sense of fun in the play with a moral, where the parts were taken by Dorothy Groom, Harvey Richardson, Peggy Hay, Mary Thornton, Betty Logie, John Hope, Yvonna Simpson and Rubena James. Mr. Kipling directed this.

United Church W.M.S. Conference Ends Today

Business Sessions Concluded With Supper Meeting at Which Mrs. Glenn Fuller, of Shanghai, Is Speaker—Reports Show Progress

Mrs Glenn V. Fuller, who is visiting here from China and who, with her husband, was connected with mission work at Tientsin and Shanghai for nearly six years, was the speaker at the supper meeting held last night by the Victoria Presbyterial of the W M S in the schoolroom of Metropolitan United Church. Mrs T. G. Griffiths, the Presbyterial president, was in the chair and introduced Mrs. Fuller.

"China Today" was the subject of Mrs. Fuller's talk, and in keeping with the occasion she wore a beautiful Chinese dress of heavy black silk trimmed with bright embroidery. She told of going to China first in 1921, her marriage taking place there. As a nurse and teacher in Tientsin she came in contact with many women and girls, and it was interesting to note the changes brought about in China in the past few years, she said. She described life in Shanghai at the present time, referred to the improving conditions brought about by Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek and the "New Life Movement," and made special reference to the progress being made in all social work.

CHRISTIAN INFLUENCE

Despite the horrors of the war, China was building towards a better day, and Christian education was playing no small part in this construction. Mrs. Fuller told of the splendid work done by Chinese Christians in establishing supply centres of food for undernourished children who are victims of the bombings in China. Child Welfare and Refugee Nutritional Associations were doing a great deal of good in Shanghai, and homes for waifs had been started. In this connection, Mrs Fuller mentioned the efforts of Mrs. Main, whose knowledge of Chinese had been the means of her success among the natives.

China was experiencing a unification despite the trials through which she was passing, Mrs. Fuller declared, adding "through Christian faith China will go on and will see the dawn of a better day."

ORIENTALS ON ISLAND

Short talks were given by Miss Bock, who is working among the Orientals Up-Island, with Duncan as her headquarters. She is in charge of a Sunday school in Duncan and a kindergarten in Chemainus, both of which are attended by Japanese children. C.G.I.T. and mission bands are also responsible for holding the interest of the young people, and the past year has been one of great progress, Miss Bock said. Miss Herbert, whose work among the Orientals in Nanaimo is also carried out under the auspices of the United Church, spoke a few words regarding her problems and achievements.

Two duets, "Keep Your Heart Singing" and "The Prayer Perfect," were sung by Miss Jean Wilson and Miss Marjorie Timberlake. Mrs. W. J. Graham expressed the thanks of the members to Mrs. Fuller and to the soloists. The supper tables were charmingly arranged with pussy willows and daffodils, and members of the clergy were among the special guests at the head table.

BUSINESS MEETINGS

Throughout the day the delegates listened to reports of the various officers and department heads, the afternoon session including the library report by Mrs. F. W. Laing, who told of the books and bundles of literature, in addition to many parcels of gifts which she had sent to hospitals, mission centres and individuals throughout the province during the past year. Mrs. A. T. Hunkin gave the report of the Mission Circles; Mrs T. Thomson told of C.G.I.T. activities representing 275 girls.

"Tales From India" had been used as the study book, toys had been sent to the Victoria East Indian Christmas party; clothing had been sent to China, and West Coast missions had been assisted. Mrs. J. G. MacFarlane told of the wardrobe of costumes, which may be hired by individuals or groups.

Reports read by little representatives of the Mission Bands were of special appeal to the older delegates.

FROM KOREA

Short talks were given by Miss Elda Daniels, who has been engaged in missionary work in Korea and who is taking Miss M. Laurie's place at the Oriental Home in Victoria during the latter's absence; Miss H. Struthers, deaconess to the Chinese, and Miss W. Gardner, missionary to the Japanese, whose delightful account of her work among the Japanese in the city was of refreshing interest.

Rev. John Turner spoke feelingly of his work at St. Columba Settlement House in Montreal, where a cosmopolitan crowd of persons in great need of help finds shelter and friendly comfort. The intimate nature of Mr. Turner's anecdotes, told with sincerity and pathos, made a great appeal to his listeners.

Miss Grace Baker made a plea for mission workers, and emphasized the need for teachers and nurses. In Canada there were ten Indian schools supported by the United Church, she said, and in this field alone there was need of help.

TREASURER'S REPORT

Mrs S. H. Shaw, the treasurer, reported that the year's receipts amounted to $7,293.35, the sum of $7,045.58 having been remitted to the branch treasurer. The value of supplies received from auxiliaries, mission circles and C.G.I.T. groups was $318.77; fifteen bales of new and used clothing, medical supplies and Christmas gifts, sent out, valued at $318.91, according to the report of the supply secretary, Mrs M. Murgatroyd.

Mrs. W. H. Wilson was the soloist at the afternoon session, Mrs. Firth playing the accompaniments.

At this morning's session the officers will be elected and installed, and unfinished business and reports will be discussed.

Will Take Part in Debate This Evening

MRS. IRENE BAIRD

WHO, with Dr. Henrietta Anderson and Mrs. H. P. Hodges, will debate against Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, D.D., Mr. H. Garland and Rev. W. G. Wilson, D.D., in the Sunday School room of First United Church this evening at 8 o'clock. The subject of the debate is "Resolved, that the modern woman is altogether too independent." Rev. Hugh McLeod will preside.

GREENIDGE—FINN

The marriage took place in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening at the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. Bryce Wallace, when Agnes Ryland, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Finn, 2628 Graham Street, became the bride of Mr John Alfred Greenidge, only son of Mr and Mrs. J. A. Greenidge, 1158 Empress Avenue.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a redingote-style frock of black suede crepe with a front panel of multi-colored crepe de Chine, a smart black turban and nose veil, and a corsage bouquet of gardenias and pink heather. Miss Evelyn Finn was her sister's bridesmaid, in a rose crepe dress, with a matching off-the-face hat and veil and a corsage bouquet of rose-pink carnations and violets. Mr Alec Allen was best man.

About 100 guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Finn in the Sons of England Hall, when the guests were received by the bride and groom standing beneath a large white bell, between baskets of pussy willows and daffodils. A handsome lace cloth covered the supper table which was arranged with silver baskets of daffodils and colored foliage and lighted white tapers, and centred with the cake. Mrs Finn wore a wine shade braided gown and a matching sailor hat, and Mrs Greenidge was in teal blue, and they both wore corsage sprays of carnations and roses. An orchestra provided music for dancing and the bride's little sister, Dorothy, delighted the guests with vocal solos and step-dancing.

Mr and Mrs Greenidge will make their home in Victoria.

BUS SERVICE AT NANAIMO UNDER FIRE

Council Members Ask Company Head Questions About Franchise

TERMINAL PLAN AND EQUIPMENT DEBATED

NANAIMO, Jan. 30—Members of the City Council, on Monday night, conferred with H L. Sangster, president and managing director of the Veterans Sightseeing & Transportation Company, operators of the Blue Line Transit Company, concerning the operation of buses in Nanaimo and possible improvement in the service

Last December electors of Nanaimo gave approval to a by-law to permit the City Council to enter into an agreement to grant the Blue Line Company a franchise to operate in the city and district and some members of the council were not satisfied with the service to date.

SPREAD OF HOURS

During the lengthy discussion, Alderman Muir referred to

(1) The long spread over the day for drivers to operate in order to qualify under Provincial regulations

(2) The length of time of bus stops on the streets causing obstruction to traffic, particularly on Commercial Street

(3) That the present service was not what it was when it first began

Alderman Muir also asked what the company proposed to do with the bus terminal plan and what arrangements were being made by the company to eliminate old buses. Mr. Muir also reminded the council that Mr. Sangster had promised to make some changes and modifications which, he remarked, had not been carried out.

Replying to Mr. Muir, Mr Sangster said there had been great improvement in the time spread for drivers and that 90 per cent of the shifts were worked within ten hours

PLANS FOR DEPOT

With regard to the bus depot plans, Mr Sangster stated it was the intention of the company to proceed with them, but there had been economic reasons that had delayed action He said that a transportation system was operated to secure passengers from the streets and that a depot would not remove that traffic from the thoroughfares

Mr. Sangster agreed there had been some failure to give adequate service especially where crowds leaving the arena were concerned. He said these matters were not always easy to adjust and challenged the assertion that the service had deteriorated. He said it was true that the military camp near Nanaimo had created new problems and had forced the company to operate an extra spread in hours to meet conditions created by workmen starting early at the construction camp. The company had to take care of 300 workmen.

Mr Sangster denied that an employee, from whom it was said that Alderman Muir secured information, had been discharged Mr Sangster intimated the man had been discharged for other reasons, which he would give to the council privately.

CONDITION OF BUSES

Concerning the use of old buses, Mr Sangster admitted there were some in use on the camp route because they were necessary to meet the peak traffic loads over limited periods Most of the equipment in use was only about eight months old and in good condition, he said.

He denied there had been unfair treatment of employees in the matter of wage schedules and said men were receiving around $25 "Don't forget," he said, "that Nanaimo is one of the worst places for a bus service Seventy-five per cent of our haulage is on hills with 60 per cent requiring the operation of the buses in low gear on grades We have seventy-two level crossings to consider on the various routes in and out of the city"

LIMITS OF SPEED

Alderman Addison asked what assurance would be given for lesser speed on the streets. Mr. Sangster said there was no speed limit imposed on drivers and denied they were forced to take chances with traffic. The average speed in Nanaimo, he said, was 12.6 miles an hour compared with 14.8 miles an hour in Victoria If drivers were exceeding the speed limit they were acting on their own initiative, Mr. Sangster stated

Concerning congestion on Commercial Street, the company president claimed it was due to taxis rather than buses.

Before adjournment of the meeting Alderman Grieves mentioned [illegible] municipal by-law last December amounting to $155.75 and it was pointed out that when the company anticipated a private bill would be required it had agreed to pay the costs of $600. The mayor, remarked he could not see any reason why the company should not pay the by-law costs when it had saved money by not being committed to a private bill.

NO REAL FRANCHISE

Mr Sangster said the company had no real franchise such as would have been the case under a private measure, and added: "This undertaking is not as rosy as people think" He mentioned licence fees and the heavy charge per seat imposed by the Public Utilities Commission, and it was pointed out by the council members that the commission got the cash and the city gave the franchise, to which Mr Sangster retorted "You have not given away anything yet."

Mr. Sangster said he would discuss payment of by-law costs with his company. No motion was submitted to the council to sign the agreement ratified by the electors

TAKE DERNA AFTER FOUR-DAY BATTLE

heavily shelled the British main forces massing outside

HEAVY GROUND FIGHTING

These artillery duels were followed by two days of heavy ground fighting

Military sources, saying that the Fascists had shown pluck, remarked that they fully expected further resistance before the British troops could get to Bengasi

Exactly how many men the Italian Marshal Graziani might have for this effort was not known here, but informants said that in view of his series of crushing defeats there could be scarcely more than 100,000 first-line Italian troops left in the whole of Libya

Of these, roughly half are understood to be stationed around Tripoli watching French Tunisia, whose commander-in-chief, General Maxime Weygand, is presumed here still not to have said his last word. The remaining half stands somewhere in the Libyan coastal area, into which the British troops now push on.

BENGASI NEXT OBJECTIVE

Bengasi, the apparent next objective of a forty-day offensive that has driven the Italians first from Egypt and then from one crumbled fortress to another across Eastern Libya, lies 150 miles still further to the west

The activity of advanced patrols in that direction suggested that British troops soon would be striking there in force

On the far-away fronts in East Africa, the British Command reported that its forces in Italian Eritrea were concentrating behind some 4,000 Italians who have retreated in the Agordat-Barentu sector and are believed preparing to make a stand

British operations were declared progressing "in all sectors" in Italian Somaliland, and on the Ethiopian front intense patrol activity was reported

RESOLUTE OPPOSITION

Edward Kennedy, Associated Press war correspondent, reported in delayed dispatches from the Derna front that the storming forces had run into resolute opposition, the strongest yet seen in the campaign

As a sidelight to the fighting Kennedy reported that two Italian prisoners insisted that Gen Annibale Bergonzoli (Electric Whiskers) who fled from Bardia, was in command of the defence of Derna, and had been commissioned to organize a new line behind it in a final attempt to halt the British drive and save Bengasi.

Governor-General at Ski School

The Earl of Athlone Strides Past Canada's Ski School at Ottawa, Where Officers From Various Canadian Regiments Train for Ski Warfare and Return to Their Own Outfits to Teach This Training. Lieut. T. P. Galday Directs the Ski School.

"As fighting progressed outside Derna," Kennedy wrote, "other Australian units set out against Italian forces supported by tanks which, apparently, were preparing for a counter-attack which might have cut off the attacking forces This move was checked in a brisk fight in which the Italians left at least sixty dead on the desert

"In company with two R A F observers I moved forward with the Australians in the morning We arrived at the airport and then slid forward to the first ridge which the Italians had abandoned only two hours before, leaving a few dead Peeking over the summit, we saw their observers on the forts across the gully, apparently making calculations for their guns.

HEAVY BARRAGE OPENS

"We returned to the airport and decided to lunch I was opening a can of corned beef when a barrage from the forts opened with such fury that we dropped all thought of eating and ran across the broad airfield strewn with the wreckage of Italian planes strafed from the air by the R A F

"We took cover in an abandoned Italian dugout, crouching there for four and a half hours as shells whined overhead and then exploded all too near Some 150 shells must have landed on the airfield

"Peering out for some sign of surcease we were heartened to see a line of Australians, accompanied by a tank, marching forward with rifles and machine guns Shells burst around them but they did not falter

"As they neared the ridge held by the Italians there was the rattle of machine-gun fire With the aid of British artillery behind them and of British bombers, which appeared suddenly, they silenced this Italian fort"

over to the Government said Dr Lanctot

"But the cost of transporting a two or three-ton gun is high and the need of scrap metal is not so pressing that it is economical to ship trophies for great distances for melting down"

NOT NEEDED BADLY

No action has been taken to encourage municipalities to turn in the German trophies loaned them although the Military Museum Board has made inquiries to see what demand there is for such scrap metal Munition manufacturing firms have informed the board they need to know the composition of the metal in the gun, whether it is suitable for their furnaces and whether the laid-down price at their factories will compare with the market price for metal

PROPOSES NEW WING

Arthur Leighton addressed the meeting and pointed out that a new hospital wing at an approximate cost of $16,000 must be given immediate consideration. He thought the amount could be financed through some trust companies Since Nanaimo became a garrison city the hospital would be called upon to look after Camp Nanaimo soldier dependents and the present sixty-nine-bed hospital here which cared for a maximum of eighty-eight patients per day on some occasions during 1940, must be expanded to meet the increase in the town's population Mr. Leighton stated consideration was being given to using for the new wing, the sum of $4,000 which the Provincial Government had set aside for a grant towards a nurses' home here A meeting of the Hospital Association will be called, when the board of management has plans further advanced Hon. George Pearson was elected honorary president and that Britain would not be defeated.

IS CERTAIN OF FINAL TRIUMPH

"But, unless we can get as quickly as possible everything that can be spared from this continent, our triumph may be delayed," he said

"We need ships, planes, guns, tanks, munitions and vast numbers [illegible] Let us not be content until the wheels of industry roar with the effects of our war effort That is what will pull us through."

NO SINGLE FACTOR

A turn in the war tide in Britain's favor could not be expected until she had gained complete mastery of the air. No single factor would bring about victory Rather, a successful conclusion for British arms would be realized through the combination of a number of factors

"When the day of triumph comes, I sincerely trust we won't do the same as we did after the last war Then we were inclined to be too lenient and too forgiving This time we must put our heel down and put an end to this Nazi scourge for all time."

He was convinced the convoy system should be continued and expressed confidence the Royal Navy would be able to remove the German menace to British shipping

"SUPREME EFFORTS"

The whole course of history had been altered by the "supreme efforts" of the Royal Air Force—including a number of "superb squadrons" from the Dominions—when they repelled Germany's bid for victory last Fall The entire civilized world, he said, should be indebted Canadian airmen overseas had performed splendidly.

Sir Cyril said he was convinced the Germans made a serious attempt to invade England last September.

"We watched the heavy concentration of troop-carrying barges on the other side of the Channel I am certain invasion was their game, but no doubt the enemy felt he must first get command of the air and there is where we whipped him If he tries again he will get another hiding. . . ."

KEEPING WELL AHEAD

In the opinion of the man who is familiarly known on the other side as the "father of the R.A.F.," Britain is keeping well ahead of Germany in production of high performance planes. He said the dive-bomber had been driven from the skies and that it was not likely to venture over British territory very often from now on.

"As we thought, the Hun started his assault against us with his day bombers, but he soon had to chuck it. I now am firmly convinced that a solution is in view to defeat the night bomber In fact, I think our antidote against this threat has reached such a stage where the German raiders won't enjoy coming over any more."

There was no indication the enemy was having similar successful results in dealing with British counter-bombing

The King and Queen were setting a "magnificent example" by their courage and devotion, living exactly as did their subjects, he said

DEFER NAMING NEW OFFICERS

Island Arts and Crafts Society Will Hold Exhibition On April 28

The Island Arts and Crafts Society will carry on with its present officers until after the society's annual exhibition in April, it was decided at the annual meeting held last Wednesday night in the clubrooms, Royal Bank Building Cook and Fort Streets.

It was felt that, since the present officers are responsible for making the exhibition arrangements, they should see the project through, and in view of this the annual meeting with election of officers will in future years be held following the exhibition.

The exhibition this year will be held on April 28 in the Crystal Gardeo, and will be featured by special displays of flower pictures, to coincide with the annual garden week, being held in the city at that time.

The meeting was presided over by John Kyle, A.R.C.A. president, and the past year's work was passed under review. The secretary, Mrs. W. H. Ronald, presented a report covering the activities of the society, mentioning the various lectures and displays held during the past twelve months. A satisfactory increase in membership was noted and the financial position was declared to be sound.

The society decided to organize a junior group, to encourage the crafts among those of high school age. Miss A. Baxter, supervisor of art for the Victoria schools, will work on this proposal along with members of the executive committee. It was agreed also to take steps with a view to inducing the Island architects and the Weavers' Guild of the Women's Institute to become affiliated with the society.

The next monthly lecture will be given by Mr. Kyle on February 12 on the subject, "French and British Art, 1700-1940."

Installment Plan For Income Taxes Is Closing Today

Under this plan, income levies may be divided [illegible] ments, commencing in January or into graded payments more suitable to the individual taxpayer. Application can be made in this area to the income tax division, at the general Postoffice.

AQUARIUS

If January 31 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9.45 to 11.45 a.m., from 2.45 to 4.45 p.m. and from 7.45 to 8.45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7.45 to 9.45 a.m., from 5.45 to 7.45 p.m. and from 9.45 to 11.45 p.m.

Almost everyone will have a tendency to exaggerate on January 31 in their desire to impress their hearers with the importance of whatever it is they have to say. Conflicting policies will be the leading cause of dissension, so married couples and business associates should try to agree on a fixed line of action, in order that disputes will not arise. Envy and jealousy must be guarded against on this date, for the harboring of either will be conducive to unhappiness. Children will feel keenly any evidence of discrimination, so parents and teachers must be careful not to display any. Self-indulgence is a personal weakness that requires the maintenance of constant vigilance if you wish to avoid trouble. Married and engaged couples and those who are exchanging confidences of love, will do well to consider "the three eldest children of necessity, God, the world and love," and try to live in harmony with each.

If a woman and January 31 is your birthday, any disposition to conceal your thoughts or feelings may curtail your happiness, for through frankness only can you expect to adjust conditions that do not meet with your approval. "Silence is golden" only when it has some well-defined purpose to serve, but frequently it is a mistake. Sheer indifference causes many people to refrain from thinking, so never permit yourself to lose interest in people or daily events. Mental alertness will be of great help in enabling you to hold your own in this busy world of ours. Through secretarial, social welfare, educational, musical, literary, artistic or specialized commercial work, you should find your big opportunity to win a distinctive place in your chosen field of endeavor. An auspicious matrimonial future appears to be inherently yours.

The child born on January 31 generally has a large reserve of energy which, during its formative years it must learn to use. A romantic nature may be revealed through this youngster's display of lively imagination and poetic conceptions. During its teens it must be taught to be practical, and to recognise the stern realities of life.

If a man and January 31 is your natal day, face issues boldly and you will succeed. Do things with promptness and dispatch, for procrastination can cause you to lose much that you have gained. As a clergyman, journalist, publisher, artist, composer, merchant, politician, salesman, business executive or educator, you should win many laurels.

LESSENING NOISE IMPROVES HEALTH AND INCREASES LABOR OUTPUT

More and more we are learning of the damage to health by noise. Formerly noise was considered just a nuisance but today it is known to be a real health problem. Everywhere engineers and public health officials are working on the problem of how to lessen the amount of noise, and where noise cannot be lessened in amount that the type of noise—its pitch and rhythm—may be regulated.

"The absorption of sound in the cases of the same substance varies a great deal with the frequency of the sound. Thus, for instance felt under a thickness of twenty-five millimetres, absorbs 94 per cent of a sound at a frequency of 2,190, and only 33 per cent of a sound frequency of 297."

The protection of workmen from the effects of sound is possible by the use of substances which isolate or keep the vibrations away, by wearing boots with sole soles and by using straw mats, felt brain and special hairs with springs, and when possible giving "rest" periods from the noise.

However as it is definitely known that noise interferes with working ability, employers themselves are now doing all they can to lessen noise in their establishments. Some ten years ago it was found that in one business office the amount of work of the employees was increased 30 per cent by the removal of certain noises. In the National Industrial Review, Dr. G. H. Ferguson, Ottawa, chief, Public Engineering Division, states that it is well to bear in mind that from the economical point of view, noise even though of slight intensity causes a marked decrease of output, which may fall as low as to 40 per cent of the normal and an increase in labor turnover, which in turn means a decrease in production. Getting rid of noise will be profitable to all concerned; to the workers because it improves their health and their enthusiasm, lessens absence from work and lessens friction between employers and employed; and to employers because it increases output and lessens cost of production.

Noise damages health because it causes constant tenseness of mind and body. Noise strikes the ear and thus the brain. The brain sends out impulses to nerves and muscles and they continue "tensed," always ready to "spring."

Tenseness causes tiredness and tiredness lessens mental and physical ability.

BEAT THIS ONE

"Down where I live," said the Texan, "we grew a pumpkin so big that when we cut it my wife used one-half of it for a cradle."

"Well," smiled the man from Chicago, "that's nothing. A few days ago right here, two full-grown policemen were found asleep on one beat."

Your Health and Your Weight

IS REMOVING EXCESS WEIGHT WORTH WHILE?

By JAS. W. BARTON, M.D.

For every advertisement of products to increase weight, there are about one hundred of products to decrease weight. In the first advertisement is usually a picture of a "skinny" man or woman surrounded by men of bulging muscle or women with beautiful feminine curves In the second advertisement is an overweight man or woman surrounded by men with shapely physiques—no excess fat.

What many of us forget is that nature intended that the body should have considerable fat covering the surface to protect underlying structures and help regulate temperature. Extra fat is placed inside the body also to protect and support various organs It is estimated that from 15 to 20 per cent of the weight of a "normal" body is made up of fat This means, then, that if you have more than 18 to 20 per cent fat you are overweight, and if you have less, you are underweight

Insurance figures show that underweight shortens the life span slightly and when the underweight is extreme it greatly shortens the life span, whereas the figures of all insurance companies definitely prove that even a moderate degree of overweight shortens the life span This figure also proves that the life span is shortened in definite proportions to the amount or percentage of overweight.

The life span of an individual of normal weight is placed at 100, so that any effect overweight has upon his life span will be shown in the percentage or figure above 100 "Thus, a person five feet tall, whose standard weight is 120 pounds but who weighs 50 per cent in excess or 193 pounds, has a death rating of 170 per cent or 70 per cent in excess of normal"

Why should the death rate be so greatly increased or his life span so greatly shortened by overweight? Dr Harry Gauss in his book "Clinical Dietetics" states that it is not surprising to learn that the life span is shortened in overweights when we remember how overweight effects the various organs and processes of the body A person whose normal weight is 150 pounds and who weighs 180 pounds is carrying 20 per cent excess body tissue His heart is required to pump blood to 20 per cent increased tissue, the liver and pancreas must do the work for this 20 per cent increase of tissue the kidneys must get rid of waste matter from this 20 per cent increase of tissue and so all the organs are "taxed" by this increased burden

The question naturally arises as to why the various organs or processes cannot handle this increased amount of tissue as it is definitely known that nature is very generous, allows the body a great margin of safety because all of us put heart, lungs, stomach, liver, kidneys, all organs in fact, on double duty at times by overexercising, overeating and other excesses

It is true that the organs of the body possess a margin of safety and are capable of increased labors but nevertheless they are not working under best conditions, when overweight is present, and the extra strain carried for a number of years must result in their breaking down sooner than they otherwise would

However, shortening of the life span is not the only penalty for overweight. I have spoken before of the work of Dr E P Joslin Boston, whose studies showed that overweight was a forerunner of diabetes that diabetes is from ten to twenty times more common among overweights than in normal or underweight individuals.

That overweights do not withstand surgical operations as well as those of normal weight is further evidence of how overweight lowers the power of the fighting forces of the body.

One research worker reports that in an observation of 1,000 cases of overweight, 432 showed evidences of true heart disease and 463 damage to kidneys

As then insurance and other figures show that overweight shortens the life span and makes life itself less worth living reducing the weight would seem to be very much worth while

NEW YORK, Jan 30 (CP) — New York Americans won their seventh National Hockey League game of the season here tonight with a 5-4 victory over Chicago Black Hawks, as Charlie Rayner made his first appearance as replacement for Earl Robertson in the Amerk nets.

It was Lo Presti's second straight defeat and his third in nine games since joining the Hawks after Paul Goodman's retirement

Lorne Carr opened the scoring on a double-passing play with Bus Wycherly and Tommy Anderson in the second minute of the first period. Johnny Chad tied it up from Bill Thoms and Art Wiebe. Anderson sent Amerks ahead again on a pass from Wycherly, former Brandon and Saskatoon junior, playing his first year in professional hockey.

Harvey Jackson increased Amerks lead from Carr and Armstrong early in the second, then Carr scored from Armstrong and Jackson. Chad got his second from Thoms and Bob Carse before the end of the period.

Thoms scored from Chad early in the third before Pete Slobodian, former Regina senior, scored his first goal in N H L competition to cinch the game for Amerks. Doug Bentley scored Hawks' final goal from Phil Hergesheimer

The result leaves Americans in seventh place while Hawks are fourth.

Both teams played a man short. Charlie Conacher, Americans' defenceman, was taken to hospital before the game for examination of an ear ailment, while Bill Carse, of Chicago, suffered a deep cut in the left leg and needed hospital treatment.

LEAFS BEAT WINGS

TORONTO, Jan. 30 (CP).—Toronto Maple Leafs increased their National Hockey League lead to six points over the idle Boston Bruins when they defeated the third-place Detroit Red Wings, 2-1, here tonight

A crowd of 11,821 fans saw the bitterly contested game broken up with less than three minutes of play remaining. Sweeney Schriner, the league's leading goal-getter, bagged the deciding goal—his seventeenth of the season. He worked in close after taking a pass from Don Metz who obtained the rubber during a checking bee in the Detroit zone

The Leafs had to come from behind to earn the winning points after trailing the Wings, who scored their lone goal in the first period. Syd Howe bagged the Detroit marker when his shot from the right side of the net caromed off Goalie Turk Broda's skate "Red" Heron matched the goal on a play with Nick Metz past the midway mark of the second session.

Jimmy Orlando, husky Detroit defenceman and league badmen, added some excitement late in the second period and drew a major and misconduct penalty for his efforts His adversary in a fight, Wally Stanowski, escaped with a minor

The mix-up started when Orlando slashed Stanowski across the hands and as the Toronto defenceman dropped his stick, the pair swapped blows They fell to the ice and as they regained their feet Orlando nearly caused a free-for-all as he tried to get near his opponent

For arguing too strenuously about the treatment by Referee King Clancy, a misconduct penalty was added to his major for being the aggressor in the fight He attempted to continue the battle in the penalty box and peace was not restored until a police officer was placed between the two players

Turk Broda improved his position over his rival in the Detroit nets in their close race for the Vezina Trophy, donated annually to the goalie with the best "goals-against" record In thirty-one games Broda has been beaten fifty-eight times, while sixty-two pucks have slipped by the Rookie Mowers in thirty-two contests

BOWLING GOSSIP

Last Saturday at the Olympic Recreations was a long long day, in more ways than one

The rollicking hollering smiling and happy Palm Dairy team finished about 11 15 p m with a smart score of 2,913, but it was a long, long time later before they were certain that another team wouldn't nose them out of first place

It was a long long day for the cashiers, the relentless pin boys, the association secretary, the dynamic alley proprietor and even for the many loyal spectators who lingered to learn the fate of their favorite teams

It was a long day for the newspaper officials who gracefully delayed the impatient deadline in order to publish official results in the Sunday morning edition

During the afternoon shift a pin boy working on a second floor alley, took a flying pin full on the kneecap and received a painful injury Harry Stuart spent some anxious minutes waiting for the doctor to arrive

Nevertheless it was a great day and a historical one It is hoped that it will be only the first of a long series of successful tenpin tournaments Nothing was left undone to accommodate the spectators as well as the actual competitors

Each alley had a neat compact score sheet. Totals were announced immediately over a public address system, and the standing of each team was easily read on the big scoreboard. Every team was ready to bowl at the scheduled time which in itself is an amazing record

Starting the 2 p m session, Bill Hancock rolled the first ball but Chuck Marks rolled the first strike

Two bowlers have played the game together on the same team for more than twenty-five years in Victoria They'll be battling together in the doubles next Saturday as well. Charlie Chislett and Albert Hawkins we pass the orchids to you for a shining example of a long lasting friendship

Johnny Angus made a swell start towards the all-events medal with a steady 202, 206, 254 series Johnny has a big advantage though You see, Ian Malcolm bowls with his Macdonald's Consolidated team, which means that the trim little lady with the enthusiastic voice is always present with that much more encouragement.

A news photographer took up a position on the alleys with one foot in the gutter, to "shoot" Mayor McGavin at the opening ceremonies A heavy tenpin ball returning to the rack along that same gutter smacked the photographer in the ankle He received such a sudden jolt that he almost dropped his super-expensive camera.

Believe it or not, this amazing Palm Dairy team made an even higher total in league play on Monday night than they did in the tournament. They're hotter than a package of Hallowe'en firecrackers

If you haven't already entered the singles and doubles for Saturday get in touch with Ron Wilson He can still find a spot in the schedule if you want to get in on the fun of a real high-class competition

All prizes will be presented on February 6 at the big smoker Charlie Holmes and Johnny Angus are in charge of the programme and ticket sales

Remember—Be on time Saturday when you are scheduled and you can be sure that the operating committee will appreciate it Thank you

Captain of Visiting Football Eleven

JOHNNY WEBBER

BRILLIANT forward and captain of the undefeated St Andrews soccer team of Vancouver who will be seen in action tomorrow at Royal Athletic Park, when the Mainlanders oppose Victoria United in a Pacific Coast Football League fixture In two earlier matches with the locals, Saints have scored the odd goal in nine, gaining a 4-4 draw at Royal Athletic Park, and a 1-0 decision at Con Jones Park, Vancouver Victoria United, now hitting on all eleven, judging by their display against North Shore last Saturday, is conceded an excellent chance of being the first team to turn back the smooth-functioning Vancouver team Tomorrow's kick-off is set for 2 30 o'clock Dave McMillan will handle the whistle and Huskins and Pearce will act as linesmen.

Believes Feller One of the Best

ST PETERSBURG, Fla., Jan. 30 (AP)—Joe "Butcher Boy" Benz, the old spitball ace, said here today he believed "Walter Johnson was the greatest pitcher of all time but Bob Feller is well on the way to becoming the equal of the Big Train"

Benz, who pitched for Chicago White Sox from 1908 through 1919, turned in a no-hit game against Cleveland on May 31, 1914, and missed another no-hitter by the [illegible] when he hurled a one-hit shutout that beat Johnson and Washington Senators.

But Benz said he is sure the major league pitchers of the present era have it harder than those of his day because of the lively ball

"Contrary to popular belief, the spitball was a delivery that pitchers had very good control over," says Benz. "It was a victim of the campaign against foreign substances used by pitchers, also because it was so hard to catch and broke so many catchers' fingers"

JOE LOUIS QUOTED AT HEAVY ODDS TO STOP 'RED' BURMAN

Experts Lay 3 to 1 That Challenger Isn't Around For the Tenth Round of Tonight's Championship Bout in the Garden—Crowd of 15,000 Expected at Ringside

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan 30 (AP) — Red Burman's two-year chase for a crack at Joe Louis' heavyweight championship ends in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night.

The Baltimore battler, ranked among the first five heavyweights in the world for the last two years, gets his chance with the Bomber in a fight scheduled for fifteen rounds, but which all but Red's very best friends say will make him sorry he ever got the idea.

Promoter Mike Jacobs and Louis' own fistic family are taking Burman so seriously they've already lined up tussles for Joe against Gus Dorazio in Philadelphia next month, Abe Simon in Detroit in March, and Arturo Godoy in Los Angeles in April.

HOPES ARE RAISED

It will be the thirteenth title defence in Louis' record-breaking run as head man—his second trip to the post in the fight-a-month campaign Promoter Mike Jacobs has lined up for him He stopped Al McCoy in five rounds in Boston last month. Louis' ragged showing there, as well as Burman's unorthodox crouching, hooking style, has raised the hopes of Red's supporters.

Jacobs expects more than 15,000 customers and a gross gate of $60,000 or over

In spite of the sky-high odds against him, the bookmakers will lay 3 to 1 Burman isn't around for the tenth round Burman plans to meet Joe with a solid hook to the body and an overhand right to the head He borrowed the former from Jack Dempsey, who has been his sponsor for several years, and the latter from Max Schmeling

Provided he can keep his chin out of the way and confuse Louis for a while, Red may stay around long enough to speak a little piece tomorrow night, say seven rounds or so. This corner picks Louis to do it inside of five rounds.

Grand National Called Off After Racing 104 Years

LONDON, Jan 30 (CP) —For the first time since its inception 104 years ago, the Grand National Steeplechase will not be run this year, it was disclosed today by Herbert Morrison, Home Secretary. Questioned in the House of Commons by D L Lipson, Independent Conservative member for Cheltenham, the Home Secretary said he had concluded a substitute race at Cheltenham was undesirable The Grand National over the Aintree course is the world's greatest test of stamina and jumping ability for horses. The course is four miles, 856 yards long During the first Great War a substitute race was run at Gatwick

At the Playhouses

"SANTA FE TRAIL" HAS GREAT CAST

Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland And Ronald Reagan Star in Colorful Film

"Santa Fe Trail," the new Errol [illegible]ring picture, which has its premiere local showing today at the Capitol Theatre, brings to life some of the most colorful figures of America's history. Dealing with the turbulent days of the era just preceding the Civil War, the story is said to top the thrills of "Dodge City," "Virginia City" and "The Sea Hawk."

Flynn portrays Jeb Stuart, famed cavalry commander; Ronald Reagan is cast as General George Custer, and Raymond Massey plays the fanatical John Brown—three names that ring out of history's pages.

Olivia de Havilland is seen as a feminine "Kit Carson," who captures the heart of young Jeb Stuart.

"GO WEST" SAY MARX BROTHERS

Merry Threesome Provide Barrels Of Fun in Latest Picture Now at Dominion

Presenting the Marx Brothers—Groucho, Chico and Harpo—in their first "period picture," "Go West," a wild and woolly comedy laid in the 1870 outdoors, comes to the Dominion Theatre today for an engagement of three days.

The Marxes say this is their epic Western to end all Westerns. It is the first time anyone has ever poked fun at the big bad men, hard-boiled sirens, lovely heroines and brave heroes of the early West. The Marxes do so by making the picture a howl from start to finish. To help things along, they don pioneer day costumes, revamped to suit their own ideas.

SWIFT ACTION IN YORK SCREENPLAY

"They Asked For It" Features Adventures of Small Town Newspaper Editor

Adventures of a small town newspaper editor who becomes involved in a strange murder mystery highlight the swift action found in "They Asked for It," Universal film, starting today at the York Theatre.

Featured in the carefully picked cast are Michael Whalen, Joy Hodges, Isabel Jewell, William Lundigan and Lyle Talbot.

The story, by Arthur T. Horman, concerns itself with the efforts of three young college men to inject some much-needed "pep" into the quiet life of the old home town. Lundigan, as the editor of the local newspaper, is the central figure in the drama. When he attempts to make a "big murder story" out of the death of a poor and elderly farmer, things begin to happen fast.

ATLAS THEATRE "Tin Pan Alley," 20th Century-Fox film which stars Alice Faye and Betty Grable, is taking patrons of the Atlas Theatre down the street that give the world its greatest songs. And it's not-to-be-missed entertainment!

CADET THEATRE Deanna Durbin sings four songs in "Spring Parade," her production which is now showing at the Cadet Theatre. The selections are "It's Foolish but It's Fun," "Waltzing in the Clouds" and "When April Sings." The fourth selection, "Blue Danube Dream," is an arrangement by Hans Salter, with words by Gus Kahn.

OAK BAY THEATRE Replete with hilarious situations and sparkling dialogue, Paramount's comedy-drama, "The Great McGinty," which is now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre, is heralded as one of the most satisfying pieces of screen entertainment of the current season.

PLAZA THEATRE Pete, famous Our Gang comedy dog, is one of the added attractions in the Republic film, "Barnyard Follies," which is now showing at the Plaza Theatre. For the past eighteen years the ring-eyed bull terrier has been a headliner on some of the largest theatre circuits in the country. He has posed with such celebrities as Kate Smith, Morton Downey, Rudy Vallee, Jane Withers and Ben Bernie.

RIO THEATRE Hizzoner the new mayor of North Hollywood is none other than Gene Autry, Republic's distinguished "Public Cowboy Number One," whose latest picture, "Gaucho Serenade," is now showing at the Rio Theatre with a large cast, including Smiley Burnette, Clifford Severn, Mary Lee and June Storey.

"LET GEORGE DO IT" AT PLAZA NEXT WEEK

An ideal theme has been chosen for the new Ealing production, "Let George Do It," which filmgoers will have an opportunity of seeing at the Plaza Theatre next week.

In it George Formby accidentally finds himself a British agent working against Nazi spies in Bergen. He is caught up in a whirlwind of hair-raising situations and his amazing performance will undoubtedly enhance his tremendous popularity.

His legion of fans will be pleased to know that not only does he offer laughs and thrills, but also provides four song numbers—"Count Your Blessings and Smile," "Oh, Don't the Wind Blow Cold," "Mr. Wu Is a Window Cleaner Now" and "Grandad's Nightshirt."

BOOK OF REVELATION GAVE TITLE TO PLAY

Robert E. Sherwood selected the title of his play, "There Shall Be No Night," in which Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne will be seen at the Royal Victoria Theatre for one performance only on Monday evening, February 3, from the Twenty-Second Chapter of the Book of Revelations. The third and fourth verses of this chapter are as follows:

"And they shall see His face; and His name shall be in their foreheads.

"And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord giveth them light, and they shall reign for ever and ever."

The first title selected by the author was "Revelation," but this was changed at rehearsal to "There Shall Be No Night," which Mr. Sherwood considered more descriptive than the book of the New Testament.

"DARK COMMAND" TO SHOW HERE SHORTLY

Marjorie Main, who may be seen in the role of Cantrell's mother in Republic's "Dark Command," which will be playing soon at the York Theatre, is one of the few actresses who are equally at home in tragic or comic roles.

An established comedienne, she is also able to interpret tellingly the tragic overtones in the character of Mrs. Cantrell, who was forced by her infamous son to pose as his "housekeeper" because he was ashamed to acknowledge her before the world as his mother.

"Dark Command" presents an all-star cast including John Wayne, Claire Trevor, Walter Pidgeon, Roy Rogers and George "Gabby" Hayes. Raoul Walsh was the director.

WESTERN GOLF OPENS TODAY

Strong Field of Pros and Amateurs to Tee Off At Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 30 (AP).—Few were so rash as to predict the winner on the eve of the forty-first annual Western open golf tournament tonight, but the concensus among the leading professional entrants was that par would be on the downside by from six to ten strokes at the end of seventy-two holes Sunday.

Byron Nelson, Professional Golfers' Association kingpin and former national open titlist, expressed the belief that a 278 would turn the trick. Par for the three-lined Phoenix Country Club layout is 71.

On the other hand, Leonard Dodson, Kansas City, also considered a "good thing" by those who wager on such things, said he wouldn't feel the title was safely in hand unless he carded a 274. The Kansas City professional recently won the Oakland, Cal., open on a play-off.

Dodson and Nelson were only two of perhaps twenty professionals who worked out today under ideal weather conditions. Most of them said they were correcting weaknesses in their game shown during yesterday's pro-amateur tournament, which was won by Sammy Snead, Hot Springs, Va., and Barry Goldwater, Phoenix.

Officials said 140, including thirty-two amateurs, had paid entry fees. "Fair" skies were predicted for tomorrow's tee-off.

Kayak II Is Out Of Big Event at Southern Track

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30 (AP).—Kayak II was formally declared out of the $100,000 Santa Anita Handicap today, leaving Owner Charles S. Howard, of San Francisco, with only two fine candidates for the big purse. The strapping six-year-old Argentine, winner of Santa Anita's biggest pot of gold in 1939 and runner-up to his stablemate, Seabiscuit, last year, officially bowed out of the 1941 classic with what was described as a tendon injury to his right front leg.

Feeble Rally in New York Mart Without Support

NEW YORK, Jan. 30 (AP) — The decline broadened in the stock market today after a feeble early attempt at a rally failed of support.

Steels, rails, motors and a wide assortment of specialties, up fractionally for a brief interval, started to slide around midway and, at the close, losses ran to well over a point for leading industrials.

Whether the principal blame for the further relapse in prices could be laid on the Hitler speech or on apprehension over mounting taxes and fears the United States was approaching active participation in the European war was a matter of argument in board rooms.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was off .8 of a point at 42, duplicating its fall of yesterday. At the latest figure it was at a new low mark since August 30, last. Since January 20 the composite has shown gains in only two sessions and these were negligible.

Transfers of 775,770 shares were the largest since January 9. Yesterday's volume was 399,690.

Steels weakened although Bethlehem, after the close, announced 1940 earnings of $14.04 a common share, biggest in the company's history, against $5.75 in 1939. In the fourth quarter $4.32 was earned versus $3.74 in the 1939 period. Directors voted a dividend of $1.50 a share, same as paid in December. The stock finished off 1 point and United States Steel was down 1⅞.

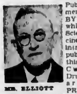
HE IS PRAISING MOSBY'S TONIC!

Well-Known Western Citizen Was Victim of Gas Pains and Upset Stomach; Now Tells How Mosby's Tonic Gave Him Splendid Relief and Says: "I Feel Fine Again!"

Mr. Robert Elliott, of 1367 Georgia St., West, Vancouver, B.C., is the latest widely known resident of this Western Section to come forward with his Sincere Public Endorsement of MOSBY'S TONIC which is a New, Scientific Medicine, now being introduced to the public daily in this city at The Cunningham Drug Stores. We are, indeed, PROUD to publish the testimonial of this well-known man. Read his Sincere Statement, endorsing Mosby's Tonic, which follows:



MR. ELLIOTT

Relieved Indigestion and Liver Distress

"I never saw anything to equal Mosby's Tonic. It is Splendid!" says Mr. Elliott. "I had been a long-time sufferer with stomach distress. I got so full of gas and bloat after meals that it seemed to press upward into my chest, and gave me a smothering feeling. Many nights I couldn't sleep on account of gas pains, and I would have cramps in the lower part of my stomach, caused by constipation. Recently I heard so many people talking about Mosby's Tonic and praising it. I got it and now I am on my second bottle, and I can hardly believe that any medicine could give such fine relief so quickly—I am feeling like a different person. It worked the gas bloat from my stomach, and I can eat my meals with a relish. I sleep soundly all night and get up feeling good. My headaches and dizzy spells are gone entirely. Here is one medicine that does ALL that is CLAIMED. Get it and take it, for you will not regret it. I will verify this statement to anybody, so I give my address above."

How 15 Herbs in Mosby's Tonic Can Help You

It is the Roots and Herbs in Mosby's Tonic which enable it to produce the Splendid Action described above by Mr. Elliott. Herbs really help Human Beings. They cleanse the bowels and clear old gas and bloat from stomach. They enliven the liver, clear away old bile and relieve biliousness, sick headache and yellowish, "muddy" complexion. They invigorate the kidney activity and stop your night rising and backache. They act to relieve pain of rheumatic and neuritic trouble. MOSBY'S TONIC contains 15 Herbs. But it does not even stop there. It contains Five Other Splendid Medicinal Agents. Local Drug Men say it is helping people all over the city.

MOSBY'S TONIC is sold in Victoria at The CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Streets, and also sold by all Leading Druggists throughout Victoria and Vancouver Island. (Advt.)

SEE DANGER TO WAR INDUSTRY

Chamber of Commerce Protests Proposed Increase in Rail Freight Rate

The Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday telegraphed Prime Minister Mackenzie King strongly protesting against the proposed transcontinental rail rate increases to become effective on February 1, and backing up the protests of British Columbia industry.

Over the signature of Duncan MacBride, president, the telegram emphasized:

"This proposal will seriously affect the war effort being made by industries in this province, inasmuch as the increases chiefly apply to steel products essential in many of our war industries, and we hope the Government of Canada will prevent the suggested increases."

Similar protests have been lodged by the Vancouver Board of Trade, the Victoria chamber was advised yesterday. The Vancouver board has telegraphed to Colonel J. A. Cross, K.C., chief commissioner of the Board of Transport Commissioners, strongly supporting the complaints of British Columbia industry. A protest signed by thirty industries in the province has been filed with the transport board, requesting suspension of the increases and an opportunity for a hearing of representations by the industries most affected.

UNJUST DISCRIMINATION

It is claimed that industries developed on the established freight rate structure will be jeopardized; that the increases would create unjust discrimination in favor of competition in other parts of the country, and would cause curtailment of plant production of these industries, and also prevent extension of the plants for essential commodities in a time of national emergency.

It is claimed further that the increases represent an attempt to take advantage of the elimination of normal water competition by Government action, necessitated by war, and that the alternative water carriage by United States intercoastal lines is not available to the industries by reason of Government regulation.

Qualicum Beach Community Club Elects Officers

QUALICUM BEACH, Jan. 30.—The annual meeting and election of officers of the Qualicum Beach Community Hall took place on Tuesday evening.

President C. H. Jarvis was in the chair and there was a representative gathering of members and shareholders.

The secretary's report showed that substantial and steady progress was being made. The financial statement also disclosed the club to be in a sound condition. These reports were unanimously accepted. It was decided to leave the matter of a new floor in the basement in the hands of the executive committee. W. C. Hackworth gave a satisfactory report on the cemetery.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, C. H. Jarvis; vice-president, A. N. Fraser; secretary-treasurer, J. V. Wilkinson; executive committee, O. Lane, G. Mant, R. H. Hodgson; auditors, N. H. Olsson and W. C. Hackworth.

OPEN HOUSE AT ATHLETIC CLUB

It will be "open house" at the Victoria Boys' Athletic and Hobby Club, tonight, when Detective Louis Callan, popular instructor, presents his boxing and wrestling proteges in the season's inaugural mixed show. Seven bouts, with the first carded for 8 o'clock, will be presented.

There will be no admission charge. A collection to assist the club in its splendid work will be taken.

Sponsored by Victoria businessmen, the Victoria Boys' Athletic and Hobby Club has been doing much to assist in the training of boxers and wrestlers. Hobbies of a varied nature are also included in the training given at the headquarters.

The clubhouse is located at the top of Cook Street hill, opposite the Orphanage. The hand of welcome is always extended to young boys and members of His Majesty's Forces who are anxious to take advantage of the club's facilities.

Solicitors for R. P. Butchart Suggest Sunken Gardens Be Maintained

Mayor Andrew McGavin was asked to call a meeting of Greater Victoria reeves and Provincial Government representatives with a view to maintaining R. P. Butchart's sunken gardens as a major tourist attraction and discussing greater coverage by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, as the outcome of a City Council finance committee meeting yesterday morning.

A letter from Lawson & Davies, solicitors for Mr. Butchart, informed the committee that legal estate in the sunken gardens had been vested in Robert Ian Ross, a grandson. It was hoped that the seed business could be carried on in the name of Mr. Ross and suggested that the gardens could be maintained by the city, Oak Bay, Saanich and Esquimalt, with assistance from the Provincial Government.

MANY VISITORS

It was pointed out that a successful lunch and tearoom could be established in Mr. Butchart's residence to cater to the 50,000 and more annual visitors, but no admission charge could be made to the gardens. The letter suggested a ten-year lease on the property and mentioned that a number of old and faithful employees could be retained.

Messrs. Lawson & Davies stated fourteen men had been employed at the gardens. Disbursements from May 1, 1939, to April 30, 1940, had been $31,567.11. Seed receipts totaled $10,430.14. Of the sum required to operate the gardens, $14,000 represented wages.

Mayor McGavin moved that the annual Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau grant be withdrawn and earmarked for maintenance of the gardens, suggesting that the question be referred to a plebiscite if it failed to secure City Council support. He thought the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee could operate the gardens. The motion failed to pass.

MOTION DEFEATED

Alderman W. H. Davies moved that no further payments be made to the bureau until the City Council was satisfied that the adjoining municipalities were doing their share. The motion was not carried.

After further discussion, the committee agreed to recommend the bureau receive $5,000 forthwith on account of any grant that might be set by the council. Aldermen Edward Williams, W. Lloyd Morgan and John A. Worthington were in favor of the motion. Mayor McGavin and Alderman Davies recorded negative votes.

WOMEN'S SKI PATROL STARTS ITS TRAINING

TORONTO, Jan. 30 (CP)—Canada's first women's ski patrol, a group of forty attached to the Canadian Women's Transport Service of the Red Cross, has started training here after an initial exercise on the snow-covered hills of a local golf club.

Mrs. Donald Meyers, commanding the unit, explained "It's partly a means of keeping fit. Whether we are called into active ski service or not, our girls will be healthy and toughened for their task as ambulance drivers."

Fugitive on a Dude Ranch

By STEPHEN PAYNE

CHAPTER V

After attending to several duties and meeting Nancy at his office as agreed, John William Smith felt the need of a stimulant. Accordingly he repaired to his favorite "club," a saloon which had been a speakeasy in bygone days.

[illegible] Chuckled to think what a glorious adventure was to be Nancy's; scowled as he thought of all the hue and cry and fuss—"stink" he called it—which Mrs Pauline Stevenson Huntington-Smythe would inevitably raise.

Nevertheless he'd see this runaway as planned Nancy's disappearance might perhaps bring Pauline to her senses and cause her to send that confounded smart, oily-tongued Hudson Alexander a-kiting

"Why, hello, Bill? How are you?"

The voice at his shoulder brought John William Smith sharply around to face a tall young man who was grinning at him with marked friendliness. The newcomer's brown suit was out of press and a bit shabby, so was his hat tilted back on a well-shaped head thatched with sandy hair, almost, yet not quite red

"Well, if it ain't my young friend of Cappy's garage!" exclaimed J W with unassumed delight "Sit down, Don . . . Walter bring Don Sturgis a cocktail Any kind. Bring me another, too . . . You got my message, eh, Don?"

Donald Sturgis folded his slender six-foot body into a chair, a troubled look washing the grin from the ruddy face, which would freckle badly if exposed to sun and wind "Yes, sir. You sent word that 'twas important I meet you here, but I had a dickens of a time persuading the boss to let me off in working hours. I can't afford to lose that garage job"

The cocktails had come and John William Smith drew a fat wallet from one hip pocket. "Just bring us a couple more and keep the change," he directed the waiter, and looked up to catch his guest's smoke-grey eyes riveted upon his billfold John William put his money back in his hip pocket.

"Lose your job? Don, you seem to me like a human sort of duck Yes, sir, loafing around Cappy's garage, one of my favorite loafing spots, I've decided you ain't like so many of these city birds who give a frozen-faced stare when you try to talk to 'em. I don't mind sayin' I cottoned to you first time we met . . . Ever think of goin' West? Tryin' ranchin' minin', drillin' for oil, or——"

"Did I ever think of heading West, Bill? I'd give my right eye to get on a real cow ranch and learn the business. I'm in dead earnest sir But how'd I ever get out West? Who'd give a greenhorn a job after he did get there?"

"Young man, what I'm going to say is strictly between you and me and the gatepost My niece is goin' to the T Slash dude ranch in Wyoming I'd feel easier if I knew a bright young feller I can trust was on the job to look out for her in case—well, in case any trouble'd pop up You get me?"

"I'm catching on, Bill."

"Good! My niece ain't to know even that I'm acquainted with you. You get a job on this dude ranch Tell 'em you'll do anything—even work for your board to get a start. I'll stake you to railroad fare and meals; pay something besides."

[illegible] tunity smacking me in the face?" ejaculated the young man. "Still," his eyes clouding, "I sort of hate to quit the garage job"

"Humph! I'm offering you the chance of a lifetime"

When Don Sturgis offered no reply, J. W Smith resumed, "There, by jingo it's settled . . . I'll give you my office address, and once you get to the T Slash keep me posted Do you know who I am?"

Don Sturgis smiled "Bill, I never heard your last name, to say nothing of your address"

"My office address is 1214 Block Building and I'm——" Smith paused and emptied his cocktail glass. "I'm William F Weller. Bill Waller A broker in a small way, Don"

John William Smith glanced around bending toward his young friend (Although Nancy had told him of her decision to let the name of the expected guest for the T Slash stand, J W didn't like the idea Not at all) "Ever hear of the Farnsworths?" he inquired

"Farnsworth?" repeated Donald Sturgiss blankly. "No Are they so important that even I should have heard of them?"

"Society" Smith cleared his [illegible] worth's the girl you're to look after, or, as we'd say in Wyoming, 'ride herd on'"

"'Marcia Louise Farnsworth'," repeated Don Stunrgis. "Okay, Bill, I'll do my best."

"Sure you will. You and me savvy each other, Don Now I'll give you what cash you'll need"

At this moment Smoothie Dick entered Having learned the haunts of John William Smith Smoothie had an idea where to look for him Now he was in time to see five greenbacks pass from John William's hand to that of a ruddy-faced, youthful six-footer

Little Stories for Bedtime

Jerry Can Find No Traps

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Jerry Muskrat was puzzled He was very much puzzled When he discovered that the stranger had left pieces of carrot and apple at some of Jerry's favorite eating places he had guessed at once that a trap had been set in each one of those places So, for a whole day he had kept away from them Then curiosity had been too much for him He just had to go over to see if those delicious titbits were still there

The first place he visited was an old log partly under water. On the part above water were several pieces of carrot. Jerry swam along both sides of that log and made sure that there was no trap under water Then he crawled up on the bank beside that log and looked carefully for signs of a trap. He could find none There certainly was no trap where those pieces of carrot lay in plain sight on that log

It seemed to Jerry that he simply must have those piece of carrot He tried to turn his back on them and go away but he couldn't He knew he was foolish, but he finally, very very cautiously crept up on that log until he could reach out one paw and knock a piece of carrot off Nothing happened Jerry jumped down and ate that piece of carrot with relish Then he climbed back and did the same thing to another piece of carrot Finally, he had eaten the last piece of carrot and nothing had happened

Then Jerry visited in turn the other places where the stranger had left good things to eat At each place temptation proved too much for him, and he ventured to take those good things. He ate until his stomach was full and then he carried what was left over to his house At none of those places could he find the least sign of a trap

The stranger came the next day and left more good things and that night Jerry had another feast The following day the stranger did not come but the day after he did As before he left good things to eat, and, as before, Jerry got them to the last scrap

It Seemed to Jerry That He Simply Must Have Those Pieces of Carrot.

But all the time Jerry was puzzled He couldn't understand why that stranger was bringing him all those good things to eat At the same time, Jerry was growing careless. He no longer used his eyes and nose so carefully when he approached the places where those good things were left. In fact, sometimes he was in such a hurry to get them that he didn't look at all but just scrambled up where the good things were You see, not once had he found a single thing wrong He was beginning to doubt that the stranger was a trapper at all. In fact, he was beginning to look on the stranger as a very good friend indeed.

Next story: Jerry's Fears Are Ended.

Favorites Advance In Island Tourney On Willows Courts

Ranking Players Move Into Next Rounds of Annual Vancouver Island Badminton Meet—Heavy List of Matches Carded Today

Seeded shuttlers last night chalked up victories on the Willows courts, as play in the annual Vancouver Island badminton championships passed its second day. Visiting netters, chiefly from Vancouver, made their first court appearances and won without exception.

Mainlanders met their stiffest opposition in the mixed doubles, where Miss Jean Echardt, British Columbia junior champion, and Stuart Barnard, young netter, were extended to three sets, the last being an overtime duel. Mrs. Foote and Hugh Francis, Victoria combination, made a great bid for victory, taking their opponents to extra points in the deciding set. Scores were 15-12, 8-15, 18-15.

Miss Vess O'Shea and Miss Jean Echardt, strong Mainland team, picked to go a long way in the tournament, marched into the next round with a straight-set decision over Miss L. Spain and Miss N. Rice-Jones, Victoria shuttlers, 15-12, 15-8.

Playing in the men's singles, Stuart Barnard, Vancouver, defeated V. Martin, Victoria, 15-7, 17-15, while Eric Leney, lanky Duncan netter and former champion, sent B. Brown, Victoria, to the sidelines in a second round match. The scores were 15-3, 15-3.

Mrs. Rom Knott and Miss Phyllis Sluggett, Brentwood's sister team, opened their defence of the doubles title with a 15-8, 15-2 victory over Mrs. Heywood and Mrs. Foote, local players.

Tournament officials yesterday issued an appeal to the players to watch their playing times and report to the draw boards at least five minutes before their scheduled time to go on court.

HOPPE WINNER OF CUE MATCH

CHICAGO, Jan. 30 (AP)—Willie Hoppe required fifty-five minutes tonight to win his third successive match in defence of the world's three-cushion billiards championship.

Following his formula of turning on the heat after the intermission, Hoppe won, 50 to 28, over Irving Crane, of Livonia, N.Y., twenty-six-year-old freshman in the title tournament.

The champion had more difficulty tonight than in his two previous matches, which he won in a total of sixty-eight innings. The score was close until the intermission, when Hoppe led 27 to 23, at thirty-six innings. Then he drew away. At the forty-eighth frame the count was 38 to 25. After that he scored in every inning but one, going out with a cluster of three.

Hoppe, who recently recovered from influenza and pneumonia, had a high run of five, made twice. Crane's best was four.

DEPARTMENT WILL PAY MAINTENANCE

Ladysmith Council Is Assured First Avenue Will Be Recognized As Part of Highway

LADYSMITH, Jan. 30—Mayor W W Walkem reported for a special committee that the members of the City Council had met here with Hon C. S Leary, Minister of Public Works, Mr. Bourne, the district engineer, and others of the Public Works Department on the future status of First Avenue Hitherto, the Works Department has only claimed interest in a width of twenty-six feet along the centre of the avenue as part of the Provincial Island Highway, and maintenance of the balance of the sixty-foot roadway has long been a point in dispute The mayor reported that the department, according to the assurance of Mr. Leary, will take full responsibility for the width from curb to curb The council expressed satisfaction with this arrangement and a note of thanks will be sent to Mr Leary for his action

A "Bundles for Britain" caravan will tour the Island, commencing Friday and the council was advised it would visit Ladysmith in response to an invitation The council approved the idea and the letter was referred to the local unit of the Red Cross Society to make arrangements, with the promise of the council's co-operation. The parcels collected are mainly for the benefit of air raid victims in Britain.

LIGHTS DESTROYED

Certain sections of Ladysmith are suffering from an air-gun blackout Several lights on the streets are no sooner repaired than the pellet barrage creates new havoc with the bulbs.

The purchase of a new light delivery panel truck for the city electrician was authorized from the local dealer.

The Ladysmith School Board came in for criticism from the council finance committee for exceeding 1940 estimates by a gross of $1,300. The city treasurer pointed out the amount quoted was a gross deficit, and that moneys received for 1940 after January 1 might bring the net deficit to half The school board will be notified to budget to take care of the 1940 deficit.

TELLS CLUB OF FALL OF FRANCE

Dr. Bruce Taylor Describes Collapse of Nation at Rotary Luncheon

"France suffered a collapse, not a defeat," said Dr Bruce Taylor, former Chancellor of Queen's University, Kingston, Ont., in speaking to the Rotary Club of Victoria at its weekly luncheon at the Empress Hotel yesterday

The former university official, who had lived in retirement in France for the past several years, said that the collapse of the nation was due to the lack of national unity, and a lack of faith in the purpose of the nation "There was no central figure or person in whom the ordinary people could put their trust," he said "Our own Prime Minister Churchill is a gift of God."

Claiming no knowledge of alleged Fifth Column activities in France the speaker said that he did know that the "men at the top of the country were rotten in every respect—physically and morally"

DIFFERENT SCANDALS

Giving instances of the impositions suffered by the French people that sapped their faith in their government, the speaker cited the different scandals in the country, the Socialistic form of Government under Premier Blum, who originated the forty-hour week for all; and the ubiquitous bureaucracy Taxation was at a ridiculous level, compelling the people to take to different forms of tax evasion, in order to survive

Speaking of the army, Dr. Taylor said that the mobilization, accomplished in two days, was amazing and magnificent. But he told how the troops were kept inactive while on service, while their families were failing to obtain even the small pittance of round fifty cents per day as allowance

The speaker was introduced and thanked by Rotary President Gerald Yardley.

DISORDERS REPORTED IN ALGERIAN CAPITAL

MADRID, Jan 30 (AP)—At least six persons were reported killed in riots involving soldiers in Algiers, capital of the French African protectorate in Algeria, dispatches from the Tangier (Morocco) International Zone claimed last night.

First reports did not specify to what extent soldiers of the Algiers garrison were involved but described the incidents as grave

The latter has the largest congregation."
